1: Arrival Of The Space Pod. The Sayan Conspiracy!

Contents

Earth, called the Land of Paradise, is a beautiful planet and it has entered a state of peace for some time now. But a certain person living in this planet holds a deadly secret, a secret that he himself doesn't know, a secret that can destroy the earth and the universe itself. He and his friend's lives will be forever changed when a dangerous force enters earth.

An alien spaceship reached the earth's atmosphere as it was flying at high speed. On the earth itself, Terry Spade and Lisa Powers were watching a beautiful evening. As Terry looked up in the sky, Lisa asked him, "What are you looking at?"

Terry answered, "The sky. Isn't it beautiful? Hey, Lisa, have you ever wondered about how big the universe is?"

"Well, I don't know." she answered. Why did he ask such a silly question? But it made her wonder about the possibilities as well. As they stared at the sky for a moment,

Lisa realized something and told Spade, "Hey, the others are waiting for us! We better hurry."

"I'll be right there. You go first."

As she turned around, there was a bright star falling from the sky.

Spade saw it and shouted, "Look, Lisa!" and she saw it too.

It looked like a comet falling and leaving a trail of light. It crashed some where not far away from them and created a huge explosion. Boom! The sky lit up as they watched in amazement and disbelief. The collision made a huge hole in the ground. Smoke was coming from the pod. The pod door opened, and a big robotic-spider creature came crawling out. It spoke in an alien language as it examined the planet.

Later Lisa, Spade, Zelfire and Piper went to the landing site, running because they were excited, especially Spade. When they got there, they saw a big round crater, where the middle was the deepest, and the pod was there. They all thought it was a meteor, but as Spade examined it, he realized it wasn't.

"It's an alien spaceship!"

"What?!" they all shouted in unison, with wide opened mouths. The pod was a big, round sphere with a symbol on the door. They all stared at it in amazement.

Not long later, a truck took away the pod. It was taken into a laboratory in the city. The alien, realizing that his pod had been taken away, said to himself, "So, the earthlings took my ship. I'll teach them a lesson they'll never forget. I'll teach them not to take other's things!...Once I get it back, there will be no more earth!! Stupid earthlings! Hahahaha!"

Several scientists were examining the pod as Spade and the others waited on the side. One of them went to the group and asked: "You discovered this thing?"

"Yeah, we did" answered Spade.

"You did? You're gonna be famous! You'll be known all over the nation for discovering this pod. You're gonna be on TV and news everywhere."

They all got excited. Terry was like, "Really?"

Suddenly the wall fell apart and smoke came out from the other side. On the other side there was a bright flash, and a dark, mysterious figure walked toward the pod. Everybody in the lab watched in fear as he approached them. The alien looked just like any other humanoid, except for the way he dressed. He had an alien warrior suit, with a mechanical device attached to his left eye and ear. He was taller than most of the people in the room.

"So, my ship is here. Get away from it!" he yelled at Spade. Zelfire, Piper and Lisa were too scared to do anything. Their eyes were fixed on the alien.

Spade, scared like hell, and shaking, says "It's yours? ... Well, I didn't know. You c-c-can have it back." The four of them quickly ran and hid somewhere away from the scary alien.

One of the scientists courageously stood up to him. "You claim that this ship is yours? Well, can you prove it?" This angered him. He grabbed the sweating scientist by the neck and raised him. His feet were above the ground.

The alien said, "Get out of my way, puny earthling!" and tossed him across the room, leaving him unconscious. This made the security guys more scared. They fired their guns, but the suit protected him from the lasers. He grabbed the gun and squeezed it, until it turned into scrap metal. "Your weak earth weapons can't hurt me!" The security guards were trembling even more. He started assaulting everybody.

Spade, hiding, couldn't take it anymore, and decided to go to stop him. Lisa grabbed him by the arm, "Are you crazy? What are you doing?"

"I can't let him hurt any more people. I've got to stop him."

Zelfire: "I know you're a great fighter, Spade, but you don't know what he's made of."

"I'll find out soon." He left them and bravely went toward the alien. He knew that if he didn't do anything, he would explode on the inside. Terry's motto has always been to defend and protect the weak and innocent, and he must stop this alien, he must. "Stop this now!" he shouted at the alien.

He turned around and stared at Spade for a few seconds, surprised by his bravery. With an average life, average friends, and a pretty face, he seems like an average guy, but he isn't. Spade, who had been superiorly trained by one of the greatest masters that ever lived, was confident in his skills. Those words echoed in his mind. Always wearing the light blue shirt and sweats, he looked as if he was ready to fight at anytime, anywhere.

(There's no way I can lose. No way.)

"What did you say?"

"Stop hurting these innocent people!"

"And what are you gonna do about it, earthling?"

"I'll do whatever it took to stop you!"

"Fine, then show me what you've got!" Seconds later, Spade ran towards him and made a punch, but he evaded, and punched him so hard that Spade was bounced from his fist to the wall across the room.

"Spade!" screamed Terry's friends together.

"Pathetic! That's all you've got?"

Spade laid there injured and weak, watched helplessly as he walked slowly towards him.

Suddenly, Zelfire and Piper jumped out and attacked. Renegade kicked and punched them away. Bam!

The alien proceeded to grab Spade by the shirt and laughed at him.

Suddenly, from out of nowhere, a fireball flew between the two fighters.

Renegade dropped Spade. "Who dares?"

"Hmmm, you never learn, Renegade. You're picking on weak humans. You think that makes you strong?" said the mysterious voice.

"Kane? What are you doing here?"

"To stop you and Destructo from destroying this planet." Kane was another alien, he was wearing the same suit as Renegade was. He also had a scouter on his left eye. He is extremely large, most of his body were composed of muscles, and he was bald.

"You are a fool, Kane, if you think you can defeat Destructo! This time, I'll make sure you die!"

It seemed that these aliens knew each other well. They started fighting. Spade watched in amazement, as he watched a fight like no other fight. Renegade and Kane exchanged punches, kicks, and energy blasts. They seemed evenly matched. Spade decided to help Kane. He ran, and landed a flying kick right on Renegade's face! The alien did not expect this from a human.

"Blast it! I can't believe this! ... You're lucky this time, Kane. I'll get you next time!" he flew out and made a hole in the ceiling.

Then Kane said to Spade, "Thanks for your help, human. I couldn't have done it without you."

"Oh, it was nothing."

"You're not a bad fighter at all. Any ways, don't let him get the space pod! He is evil! He plans to destroy this planet! I must go after him and stop him. See ya." Kane also flew out through the ceiling.

"They can fly too!" said Zelfire in shock.

This one day will change their lives forever.

Renegade returned to the landing site. Three other aliens were on the impact site. Two were sitting, one was standing, with arms crossed. They all wore the same suit, with the same colored scouter. Goldark, the biggest one of them and the toughest one had purple skin. Lance was the shortest one, but he looked tough with spiky hair. Aria was of average height, with some attitude.

"What's the matter, Ren? Why so blue?" asked Goldark.

"My name is Renegade, and shut up!"

"So, you let the puny Earthlings take your space pod?" Lance added with mockery, and all of them were laughing at him.

Aria: "What happened there? Didn't you go to get it back? Did the big bad humans hurt you?" They laughed at him again.

"I was attacked unexpectedly."

"By an earthling! You are a disgrace to us! Beaten by an earthling!" Goldark said.

Renegade: "He had help from Kane!"

Goldark: "Kane? He's here on earth? Even so, he is a low class soldier. I can't believe you have trouble with him! He is a weakling compared to us! You don't even deserve to be working for Destructo!"

"I can't believe Destructo ever depended on you to do anything important." Lance said.

"I'll figure out a way to get the ship back, and the Cyber suits! Just watch!!" Ren left them, humiliated and angry.

2: Secret of the Sayans. Terry's Past.

Contents

As Spade, Zelfire, and Piper were walking down the street, they were thinking about what happened the other day in the lab. It was so shocking that they get the jitters just thinking about it. They've fought people before, but not aliens. They couldn't help feeling scared.

As they walked into an alley, Kane dropped from the sky, landing in front of them. They stared at each other for a moment.

"You're the bald guy from the lab!" Piper exclaimed.

"Yes, I am. I think you three deserve an explanation about everything that happened."

"We're listening" Spade said, crossing his arms.

Kane began to explain as clearly as he could. "You see, the person who owns the space pod...his name is Renegade. He is a Sayan from the planet Arlia. Sayans are a warrior race, built for war, and they live for war. They are cold-blooded, blood-thirsty animals who fight to live and live to fight. Some say they are the master race of the universe. Sayans are born naturally strong, and not only that, but they grow stronger exponentially!"

Spade: "Sayans, huh? This guy Renegade, he just wants his ship back, right?"

Kane: "Yes. But the reason that he came to earth is...well, firstly, what is their purpose? Sayans want to conquer other planets to expand their power. Many races have already fallen victim to them. They're already expanding their military power throughout the galaxy. And they've set their sights on this planet, earth. Sayans are not to be underestimated. A handful of them can conquer a planet."

They all listened, in disbelief and yet amazement.

"And who are you?" asked Piper.

"I apologize. I didn't even introduce myself. My name is Kane, of planet Mascus."

"Are you a sayan?" Zelfire asked with scrutiny.

"Yes, I am. Most sayans dress alike. We all wear our soldier uniform."

"You said sayans are evil! Are you one of those cruel monsters who destroy planets?"

"No, I'm nothing like them. You see, not all sayans are bad. Decades years ago, some of us questioned whether killing is right or wrong. We didn't want to kill just for power. We thought that power wasn't everything. They saw us as traitors, and labeled us rebels. So a colony was created for those dedicated to stop the tyranny and evil of sayans! And thus, we have entered the Great War." Then Kane continued. "I am determined to stop those sayans from causing any more harm. I have fought Renegade before, and this time I will stop him. But, he's not alone. There are four others like him that are on this planet."

"Why are you telling this to us?" Zell asked, still untrusting.

"Because I need your help. I can't fight all of them by myself. Their leader, Destructo, is very powerful, even though he's not a sayan."

"We want to help, but what can we do? We're not strong enough to fight them!" Piper said.

"No, but Spade is. He is very skilled." Kane said.

"I am?" Terry sounded surprised.

"Yes, let me see." Kane pressed a button on his eye device, and some words in an alien language came out. "Yes, I was right."

"What is that thing on your eye?" asked Spade.

"This 'thing' is called a scouter, and it's very useful. It tells me where sources of energy are, and can determine a person's fighting abilities. And this thing can do much more...and it tells me that you have the fighting power of a sayan. Which means...you are a sayan."

"Say what?" Terry Spade asked.

"Hmmm, I knew it from the first time I saw you. You are a sayan!"

"What?!" screamed Zelfire and Piper.

"No way! That can't be!...You're lying!" Spade shouted, who is perfectly, positively, absolutely sure that he's a 100% human being.

"I know it's hard to swallow, but it is true. Sayans can tell one if another is a sayan. I am sure you are."

"Stop this non-sense." Terry said, getting a little irritated. "I don't know what you're babbling about."

Zelfire and Piper just listened like they had no idea what's happening.

Kane: "You are a sayan, there's no doubt about it. There have been rumors about a sayan from Arlia being sent here as a child..."

Suddenly, Terry thought about something Master Lang told him. Something about his origins. "I've been on earth my whole life! I'm not an alien, or a sayan! I'm not one of them! One of you!!!" Spade ran away, in disbelief, and fear that he is was a sayan.

"Wait!" shouted Piper. "Where are you going?"

Meanwhile, Ren planned to killed Kane and get his ship back. As he was doing so, Lance, Goldark, and Aria reported to Destructo. They kneeled down before him, as a person kneeled to a king. He had the height of an average human, except that he was not human. His skin was wrinkled and purple all over his body, and his limbs and face was covered by machinery, and like the others, he had a scouter on his eye, which fit his skin color perfectly.

"So, Renegade has lost the Cyber Suits? That imbecile. Why did I trust him with something so important?"

Lance said: "Sire, Ren is of no use to us! He is an embarrassment! He has been defeated by an earthling and Kane. He is too weak to be part of us!"

"I'll give him one more chance. He won't dare fail me, no one does! ... And the same goes for the three of you! If you ever fail me, I shall have your head!"

"Yes, we understand sire." said the three of them in unison. Then they exited out the room.

"Damn it! Kane is once again on my trail. And that means all the rebels knows about my plans! Even if he is killed, I'll have my hands full with the rebels! I can't underestimate them...Once I get the Cyber Suits, all earthlings will die! Heheheheheh!" He entertained himself with thoughts of victory.

Kane searched for Terry, and it wasn't a problem, with his amazing scouter. He found Terry meditating by the waterfall. Terry had his back facing him.

"I believe you." Terry said, sensing Kane's appearance. "All my life, I have noticed that some thing was different about me. Something that separated me from other people. Even though Zelfire, Piper and I were trained under the same master, my master says that my potential is far greater than theirs. But I never suspected that...that I'd be one of those sayans that you mentioned."

"I know you're not evil, Spade. I need your help. I can train you, and you will become stronger than ever, may be even strong enough to beat Destructo!"

Spade sighed. "I can't believe this is really happening, all this time I thought I was a normal person, and then suddenly one day I find out I'm not so normal."

"I know it's a big burden for you...but..." Kane couldn't find the right words to say.

"Alright, I'll do anything to stop those tyrants from destroying all of mankind."

Zelfire and Piper overheard Terry's line and joined in. Kane was surprised that he didn't detect them.

"We want to train under you, too, Kane."

"Are you sure about this, guys?" asked Spade. "Yeah, we can't let you fight them alone! We live on this planet, too!"

"Very well, then. We will start tomorrow." Kane said gratefully.

The next day, early in the morning, the group began their training. The trained from dawn till dusk each day for the next week, fighting each other and nothing else. On the way, they learned some new techniques which Kane thought would be very useful. Spade was doing very well and he proved to be a true sayan, as Kane had said. Lisa visited them three times a day, providing their meals and cheering them on.

During lunch break, Terry went to meditate by himself, sitting under the waterfall, and letting the cold water run through his hair and his back.

Zelfire jumped over to the place and joined him. "What's the matter, Terry? Why you meditating by yourself? It's no fun unless you've got company." Zell said in a cheery mood.

Terry opened his eyes and didn't say anything.

Zell grew concerned. "Look, I mean...you don't have to let what Kane said affect you. Whatever you may be. Whether you're human or sayan, it doesn't really change anything. That's how I feel. No matter what, you're still good ol' Terry Spade."

Terry knew he meant well. "Thank you, Zelfire. I think I've been in denial this whole time. I mean, I've never heard of anything like this in my life."

"I know what you mean."

"Master Lang told me something before...a long, long time ago. About how he found me."

"Uhhh..."

"And I thought he was playing one of his stupid mind tricks or something. But after what Kane said, I started to think about things. Whenever we train, and I get hurt, I'd go see a doctor. And they'd say I'm not normal, even though I am. They just couldn't figure out what's wrong with me."

"All answers will come in time. That's what Master Lang says."

"Yeah. I should just relax, right?"

But relaxing was the last thing Terry could do. Kane's training program was pretty intense and rough, plus he had a limited time to teach them what they needed. But it's good that they already had the fundamentals hands-down. These humans (and sayan) were pretty cooperative, in Kane's opinion, considering they just met.

Neither Kane nor Terry mentioned anything about Terry's origin during their, although they think about it a lot. Whenever those two fight each other, they could almost each other's thoughts. They can tell by the look in their eyes. Terry would start accepting the truth. Kane would think that Terry's improving, and he knows that Terry knows. And whenever those two walk by each other, not saying a word, a lot was going on in their mind.

As the heroes continued training, Destructo went on a rampage on Network City. He flew around the air, and shot energy balls at vehicles, monuments, and people. The police force was powerless against him. The citizens ran like hell as they never faced some thing like this before. By the time he left, a third of Network was demolished.

Aria, Lance, and Goldark floated in the air and watched him go on a rampage.

"With a force like that, Kane is no match for us." Aria said as he watched Destructo leave the wreckage.

3: The Battle Begins. What is the Great War?

After a few weeks of training, Kane congratulated Spade, Zelfire, and Piper. "Congratulations, you have completed your training. I have taught you everything I know! All of you have reached a new level of power, which means you are much stronger than before. It's such a shame that we don't get to spend any more time on this. But if we wait any longer, Destructo will blow up half the planet. But we are ready for combat."

"Right!" the three of them yelled together.

"Congratulations guys! Good luck in saving our planet!" shouted Lisa gracefully. Without further ado, Kane led the pack, flying to their targets.

Kane went to the landing site with the others to give a surprise attack. They hid behind some bushes and watched the aliens talk.

"Listen, Lisa. When we start, it will be dangerous, so don't get discovered. Okay?"

"Sure, no problemo. I'm sure you guys can win without a doubt."

"Thanks for the support." Terry said.

Then Renegade's scouter detected four energy sources nearby, and realized that it must be Kane. He told the other aliens and they left the site immediately.

"Where did they go?" Piper asked worriedly.

"Oh no, they must know we are here!" Kane said, forgetting that they have scouters too.

The aliens descended from the air and landed on the ground behind the heroes. "Well, well, well, look who showed up! If it isn't the great and powerful Kane!" Goldark remarked sarcastically.

"So much for our surprise attack." Zelfire sighed.

"Where is Destructo?" Kane demanded.

Aria: "Destructo? You don't have the right to fight him. He's off your league."

"You must be the sayans Kane told us about." said Spade. "You want to hurt our planet, don't you? We, as citizens of this planet, won't let you do what you want. So prepare for some pain."

"I remember you! You are that earthling from the lab! I'll make you pay for what you did to me!" Ren said, startled.

"Listen, I don't know who you people are." Piper said. "But Kane told us all that we needed to know about your kind, and we know what your plans are."

"Really?" Goldark asked.

Ren: "So, Kane told you everything about us? You shouldn't believe everything he says. He's a traitor!"

Goldark: "Look at these puny earthlings! You're no match for us!"

Zelfire: "You shouldn't underestimate your enemies, you big ugly gorilla!"

"What did you say?!!!" the giant Goldark growled angrily. Then everybody froze as Destructo appeared before them.

"Destructo." Kane whispered to himself fearfully.

"What is that thing?" asked Spade in disgust.

"Well...it looks like everybody's here! Thank you Kane, for saving us the trouble of looking for you!...What's this? These must be the earth creatures that Renegade had so much trouble with! So, Kane, now you're using earthlings to do your dirty work for you? You see, my dear friend, you are like one of us, Kane." Destructo said.

"No. I'm not one of you! I'm nothing like you! And I'm certainly not your 'dear friend.'"

"Then I'll enjoy watching you suffer! Finish them off!" Destructo commanded.

"Yes, sire." the sayans shouted together.

The two groups prepared themselves for battle. They glared at each other with hate and anger, and nothing else. Kane started off by punching Aria, then the heroes followed. The sayans went off in different directions and the chase was on.

"No! They're trying to separate us! Don't follow them!" Kane yelled, but it was too late. Zelfire, Terry, and Piper were too far away to hear him.

Spade chased after Ren, and after a while they both stopped. Ren pushed a button on his scouter and a bunch of symbols appeared in front of his eye.

"Hmmm...you fool! You expect to defeat me with this tiny fighting level?"

"I wouldn't believe every thing that gadget says." Terry said confidently.

"Heh, you're right though. I should judge your strength from our last fight, right?"

"You shouldn't judge someone's strength by encounters in the past. I haven't fought you seriously yet."

Ren: "Just for that, I am going to kill you quickly." He gathered energy balls into his hands.

Zelfire chased after Goldark and he was catching up. "Come back here, coward!" Then Goldark stopped and Zelfire stopped to catch his breath. "So you finally stopped running."

"What's the matter? Don't tell me you're tired from that run?" Goldark said with a smile.

"Tired? No way. I'm just warming up."

They jumped and hit.

Meanwhile, Piper fought Lance. Piper ran into him and punched him. Pow! Then Lance kicked him in the stomach and leaped a few feet back.

Piper grunted from the pain and put his hands on his wound. "You creep!"

"Owww, did I hurt you too much? I guess I don't know my own strength!"

Lance gathered some energy in his palms, and formed it into an energy ball. He threw it straight at Piper. The energy was just too fast for him to dodge and too powerful for him to stand. It hit him, and his clothes were burned and smoking. Seconds later, he fell and landed his face in the dirt.

As the others began to fight, they realized these sayans were more than they could handle.

Goldark was just too tough for Zelfire. Zelfire punched him hard in the face, but he didn't feel a bit of pain.

"Ouch. That really hurt. You're just too much for me." Goldark said sarcastically. Then he wiped the blood off his mouth. Zelfire was shocked that it didn't hurt him at all. Then he smiled, and grabbed Zelfire, and threw his ass on the ground hard.

Destructo watched Kane and Aria fight and laughed as if it was a show. "Kane and his earthlings will never beat us." he said to himself.

Ren ran forward, still holding the balls, and Terry jumped away to avoid them. They kept on chasing each other. Ren threw the balls, Terry blocked it with a shield. The balls were bounced away. Twang!

Ren fired a succession of little shots. Terry dodged, and flew down really fast, essentially turning his body into a comet. Ren's scouter beeped like crazy. He was surprised to see such a high power level, in the thousands. Bam! He hit Ren against a tree.

"Ugh..." Ren said, recovering. "How can a human like him have such a high fighting power? How can he suppress that much power?"

"I told you that you shouldn't rely on that little device. It won't tell you shit."

Renegade wiped blood off his mouth. "Heh. You hit me once, and you get all cocky."

"Once I finish you off, it's all over."

"Wrong, human. It is just the beginning. Ha ha ha ha ha."

Terry grunted. "What do you mean?"

"Even if you do miraculously kill me, so what? Destructo will finish you off. Even if you somehow kill Destructo, so what? There will be other sayans who will come finish the job. And they will only send stronger and stronger sayans to conquer earth. Your little charade means nothing to us. You're just an insignificant bunch!"

These words did not sound appealing to the hero.

"Heh, it is inevitable that earth will be dragged into the Great War."

"Great War?" Spade said, knowing he heard that before somewhere. "What is this Great War?"

At the very same time, Goldark and Lance mentioned the Great War to their adversaries. Zelfire listened, while Piper didn't care.

Renegade: "What's the Great War? Wow, you earthlings are more ignorant than I thought. Even if this is a neutral planet, I didn't think you people would be this stupid."

Terry: "Shut up and explain already, will ya?"

"Very well. Why do they call it the Great War? Because of the number of planets involved. This war, between sayans, and other foreign races, has been taking place for nearly a century now."

Terry was shocked. "A century of war?"

"Oh, yes. At first, it was meant to be a secret war. It all started on planet Murai. The Dark Empire was still in its infant stages, but they were arrogant nonetheless. They wanted power - more power than they already had. So they started to invade other planets. But of course, certain races fought back. And these races, realizing that they needed to team up to stand a chance, formed the Rebel Faction. It's an inter-galactic war involving many planets and galaxies!"

"No way."

"Somewhere down the line, the Dark Empire sought the help of planet Arlia, knowing that it is inhabited by sayans. They thought we'd be an asset to them, if we joined. Rumors have it that they forced the king to cooperate with them. But that's not important. What's important is that this is the reason why we're here. In order to help out in the war, us sayans need more planets. More planets mean more territory, and more people we can draft into our war."

"Grrr. You mean more people who will die for your worthless cause."

"Exactly! Now you're getting the bigger picture. So that's why Destructo is here on this very planet. He's a mercenary sent here to do this job. And we are his servants of war. I've been instructed to come to earth and bring him the Cyber Suits. But someone took it from me."

Terry shrugged. "Don't look at me."

Ren got pissed. "Don't fuck around with me, earthling. Just hand them over, and I'll promise you a quick death."

"How about...no?"

"Very well." Ren said, gathering energy into his palms. "Just keep up that attitude."

So, the heroes were introduced to the Great War. But how will this war affect them?

4: Terry's Origin. Is It Really True?

Contents

"The Great War, huh?" Terry repeated to himself. "How unnecessary. People are dying because of a few people who want power."

"You say that, but..." Ren replied, "Power is everything. Even you humans fight against each other. There have been wars throughout history. You humans slaughter you own kind! You're even worse."

"Hey, at least we didn't fight for like a hundred years."

"Hmm. I'm in no mood for chatting. Just hand over the Cyber Suits."

"Very well. You're asking for it." Ren charged. Doosh.

Terry jumped up, and they fought about in the air. Pak pak pow pow kapow!

After a few minutes of fighting, Spade was bruised all over his body, especially his face. His mouth was bleeding, and he had a cut on his forehead. His shirt was ripped up, and there were holes on his pants. He was breathing really hard and could barely stand up.

Ren, however, had only a few scratches, and a small bruise on his face. His Sayan suit had protected him a great deal. He panted for breath.

Then he spotted a mark on Spade's left arm. \(That mark! Could it be?\)

"That mark....where did you get it?" Ren asked him in serious tone.

"Oh, this? It's my birthmark. Why do you care?" he replied.

Suddenly, his face became surprised and disbelieving. "No, this can't be. I can't believe it."

"What are you blabbering about? Did you forget to call your mom or something?"

"That birthmark...I have the same one. Look." Ren pulled up his sleeve on his left arm, revealing the same mark that resembled a spade. "This means...there's no doubt about it. You're my brother?"

Terry: "What? What the hell kind of trick are you pulling?"

"It's no trick. It's the truth."

"So, we a similar birthmark. Big deal. What does that prove?"

"You're my long lost brother...they've been telling me about you. We were just babies when we were separated. Our father was a rebel, and they considered him a threat to the sayan planet! They planned to destroy him and his children! The only way to protect us was to send us to another planet. We were on the same course, but my ship was knocked off course! Your ship went to earth, and separated from mine! I have heard that I had a lost brother on earth. I can't believe he's you! Brother...our real name is Mason! That was the name your father gave you."

Spade thought for a while, taking the time to absorb Ren's shocking words. It was too much for him. Too many things happened in such a short time. Sayans showed up. Kane tells him about his sayan heritage. And now, this man, standing in front of him, supposedly his enemy, shares the same spade birthmark as him, and claims he is his brother. What else can happen?

Renegade: "I wouldn't lie to you. Your power level proves that you are a sayan. And that birthmark...what are the chances that we have the same one, without being related? You have to trust me, Mason."

"Mason? My name is Terry Spade. So what if I'm a sayan? So what if I'm your brother? What kind of brother would want to ruin my homeland."

"Fool! You are a sayan. Why are you fighting to protect a worthless planet? To protect those weakling humans? We are sayans! We destroy lives! We're on the same side, we shouldn't be fighting. Why don't you join me, Mason? Join Destructo, and you will be given power, power that you could never dream of."

"Your offer is really tempting, but that doesn't appeal to me. I'll never join the likes of you. I was raised on earth. I've lived on earth. I am an earthling, not a sayan."

"You fool! Do you realize what you're refusing? I am offering you the universe?"

"I don't care about power. All I want is peace for all of mankind, and for your kind to leave us alone."

Ren grunted angrily, he was getting impatient. "I'll give you one more chance, brother. Join us, or oppose us. If you oppose Destructo, it will only lead to your demise!"

"I won't change my mind. I've decided already." Spade said.

"You are more stubborn than I thought, brother. Very well, then, die!" Kaboom.

Lisa hid behind a bush as she cowardly watched the fight between Kane and Aria. Aria saw some thing moved in the bushes, and Lisa gasped as he looked in her direction, and he spotted her.

"Huh, who's there?" He stuck his hand in the bushes and grabbed her out.

"Ahhh!!" she screamed.

Kane: "Let her go! This is a fight between us!"

Aria laughed, and said: "Why don't come and get me! If you attack, your friend gets hurt too!"

Kane grumbled angrily, and hesitated.

"What's the matter, Kane? Afraid to hurt your human friend? Your heart is way too soft for a sayan! Hahahaha!"

Aria, with one hand holding Lisa, used the other hand to gather energy, and fired it at Kane several times. Zam zam zam zam! It knocked him on the ground, leaving him injured and barely conscious.

Lisa: "No!"

Meanwhile, Ren was enjoying watching his own brother suffer. "You will never beat me, brother! You should've joined me when you had the chance..." He looked at another direction and saw several bodies were piled together. "Hehehe, it seems that your friends have lost!"

"What?!" yelled Spade.

He looked to his left and saw Kane, Zelfire and Piper and Lisa lying on the ground next to each other, and they seemed to be unconscious. The other sayans were standing behind them, laughing.

"Guys! This can't be."

Renegade: "Even Kane was no match for us! It's over Mason!"

Terry hesitated, and then declared: "No, this fight is far from over, Renegade." They started fighting again. They ran towards each other, and their fists collided like stones! Pow! Ren flew into the air, and Terry followed him. Terry used the Energy Blast. Zoom! An energy ball flew towards Ren, but he blocked it easily with one hand. As the energy hit his hand, the beam turned into an explosion and instantly a cloud of smoke covered Renegade's body.

"Alright! I got him!" Terry yelled happily. But as the smoke was blown away by the wind, Ren could be seen again, and he was laughing triumphantly. Goldark, Lance, and Aria were also laughing.

"It didn't even hurt him. Damn it."

"You call that an attack? ... I'll show you a real attack!" Ren gathered a lot of energy, and threw it at his brother. It was just like the Energy Blast, only stronger and faster. Terry was hit badly and he fell into the lake. Splash!

"Terry, don't die!" screamed Lisa.

"Goodbye, Mason." said Ren.

Aria: "Well, Renegade finally did something right."

Goldark: "Heh, indeed."

A few seconds later, the water started to bubble.

Ren turned around. "What?"

The water bubbled more. Readings appeared in his scouter and made a beeping noise.

"I am impressed. He is still alive after all that. He is a true sayan indeed."

Splash! Terry jumped out from the water and flew towards Ren. After a few attacks, they landed on the ground to catch their breaths, then fought again. Ren gave him the final blow, and Terry fell on his knees and hands.

"C'mon brother, don't tell me that's all you've got. I must say, I'm impressed. No one has been able to wound me like this before! But you still are gonna die."

"No, I won't lose. I don't care how strong you are. I won't let you harm this planet!" Terry yelled angrily.

Suddenly, a burst of energy formed around his body. The force was so strong even the other sayans could feel the ground shaking violently. With the last bit of strength he had, Terry formed a ball of energy in his palms, and threw it at Ren. Without even a chance to react, Ren was hit and knocked unconscious by the energy, which was nothing like he had ever felt.

Goldark: "Impressive. That earthling defeated Ren."

Lance: "He's no earthling! He is Ren's brother!"

Goldark: "What?"

Aria: "It's true. Ren just called him 'Mason' before. He has the same birthmark as Ren does on his arm."

Goldark: "That makes sense. He is a sayan, like one of us."

Lance: "Yes, but do not forget, Renegade is a weakling compared to us. Mason is his brother, so their strengths are pretty much the same. He is not a threat to us."

There was smoke burning from Ren's armor. "I have been defeated...by my own brother, how can this be?" Then he fainted.

Terry stared at Ren, then turned his attention to the others. "Hey you, let my friends go now!"

"Are you talking to us?" Lance asked.

"Let them go now." he repeated.

"What makes you think we'll listen to you?" Goldark said. Then, a voice came out from their scouters, the voice of Destructo. "Return immediately" the voice said.

"But..."

"This is an order!!"

"Very well then...you're lucky this time..."

The sayans left and took the fainted heroes with them.

"Wait!" yelled Terry as they took his friends away. They flew into the sky and went out of sight. Mason, weak and injured, couldn't do anything but helplessly watch them disappear into the sky. "Don't worry guys, I'll save you. I'll save you, somehow."

5: Team Battle! The Sayans Perish.

Ren, who was left unconscious from the battle with Mason, was resting in some sort of liquid healing chamber. He was breathing through a respirator that was attached to an oxygen tank. Although unconscious, he could still flash back to what happened the other day, and vowed to get revenge once he got healed.

Terry Spade was checking out the space pod that belonged to Ren. Inside, were advanced computers and technology he had never seen before. He was amazed by all the things he saw. He also found several odd-looking suits inside. "I wonder what are these for?"

Suddenly, the screen on the computer turned on by itself. Destructo's face appeared on the screen.

"I remember you. You're Destructo."

Destructo: "Yes, and you are Mason."

"Listen, my name is Terry. And you'll address me by that name. Don't forget I'm an earthling."

"It doesn't really matter what you are. You have beaten Renegade, and that means you are my enemy."

Terry: "Where are my friends?"

Destructo: "They are fine. But not for long if you don't return Renegade's ship to me! Look, I have something you want, and you have something I want. You know what this means?"

"If I return the pod to you, will you let my friends go free?"

"All I want is the Cyber Suits." Destructo assured him.

"I'll do anything to ensure their safety. How do I bring those suits to you?"

"Here is the location of where your earthling friends are." The screen showed a map, with the coordinates. "See you soon, Mason." The screen went blank.

Terry didn't hesitate to go there immediately, knowing his friends could be tortured at this very moment. The coordinates pointed to an abandoned factory on the outskirts of Network City.

The sayans were waiting for him to show up, while Lisa, Kane, Zelfire, and Piper were chained to the wall.

Lisa: "Don't worry guys, Terry will come and save us. He's never let us down before."

Zelfire: "I hope you're right, Lisa."

Kane: "How can you be sure he'll come? Knowing that this is trap, and his enemies are waiting for him to show up so they can kill him? If I were him, I would run away as far as I can from..."

Piper: "Hey, our Terry is not like that! He will never coward out like some people would, especially when his friends are in trouble."

Kane: "You four seem to have an interesting relationship."

Piper: "We have been best friends forever. We won't let each other down."

Kane was impressed by their trust in their good friend. It kinda reminds him of his superiors.

Goldark's scouter detected something. "It must be Mason!" They went outside to 'welcome' him.

"You finally showed up at last. We were thinking you wouldn't come." Lance said.

Mason descended slowly to the ground, looking at them.

"You made the right choice in coming here."

"Where are the Cyber Suits, Mason?" Goldark asked impatiently.

"Oh, I forgot them." he said humorously.

"You forgot?" grumbled Goldark. "You think this is funny? The lives of your friends are in your hands, and you've just lost them."

"Not really. You see, I came to save them."

"Foolish boy, what makes you think we're gonna let you do that?" said Aria. Then he laughed.

Mason prepared to fight. In a flash, the three of them charged at Mason together. They attacked him together, and Terry tried to avoid all their attacks. Although outnumbered, he seemed confident, as if it was all part of his plan. Terry with just enough distance from them, used the Flash attack, a technique he learned from his old master. He closed his eyes and a glowing ball appeared in his palms.

"What's he up to?" Lance asked.

Then the ball burst open and a blinding light hit the whole area.

"My eyes!" Goldark shrieked.

Lance: "What kind of trick is this?!"

Aria: "He'll pay for this!"

They covered their eyes from the bright light and couldn't see a thing.

Terry took advantage of their disability and went inside the factory. "It's Terry! See, I told you he would come." Lisa said happily.

"You never let us down, bro." Zelfire said.

Terry unchained them as quickly as possible. "You guys alright?"

"Don't worry about us. We're still alive, aren't we?" Piper said.

Kane: "I must admit, it was very brave of you to do this, knowing the risks. When I fought Ren, you stepped in to help me, and now you risked everything to save me and your friends. And to be honest with you, I haven't met anyone with your level of courage in a long time.

"Yeah...save your flattering for later, the sayans are still outside, and quite angry."

The bright light gradually vanished and their eyes recovered bit by bit.

Aria: "I swear I thought I was blind."

Goldark: "That little punk will die!"

Suddenly, a beam hit Aria and pushed him away. Goldark and Lance flew out of the way. Kane flew past them, flying to where Aria is going to land. Smash! Aria jumped out of Kane's attack. Bam.

Lance: "I'll take the on Mason and his other friend. You take the other guy."

Goldark: "With pleasure."

They flew down.

Lance and Terry and Zelfire gave each other the stare. "You've got a lot of nerve," Lane said, "pulling a stunt like that."

Zelfire: "And you've got a lot of nerve, using us as hostages."

Froom! A fire beam went past Kane, burning his shoulder. "Ugh!"

Aria laughed. "Ha ha ha ha! You will die, Kane. You will die, along with that damned colony."

"You die." Kane fired an energy blast at Aria, making a direct hit. He screamed as his scouter cracked, and broke, and his body disintegrated.

Lance fired a bunch of beams at the ground. Kaboom. Terry and Zelfire ran away from them.

Terry: "I think we should use that technique."

Zelfire: "That one? The one which our master taught us? Alright, let's do it."

Lance: "Where did they go?"

Suddenly, a beam flew at him, and he dodged. Then another one hit him, smashing him to the ground.

"Ugh!" Before Lance can do anything, Terry fired a beam close to the ground, and it hurtled towards Lance, essentially burning the ground. "NOOOO!" Froom! He was hit and burned up as the beam went past him.

Now, only one of the sayans was left.

"Lance and Aria are gone. I guess it's up to me now." said Goldark as he pounded Piper to the ground.

Kane, Mason and Zelfire surrounded Goldark on three sides.

Goldark smiled as he looked at them. Kane grunted at him. They were waiting for each other to make the first move. It was very quiet now, so quiet they can even hear the sound of the wind. "I can take on all three of you together."

Kane said, "That's fine with us."

"C'mon make your move!" screamed Goldark.

The three of them charged at him together, they push him down, but Goldark lifted Zelfire up and threw him away. Then with one arm he punched Terry and knocked him good. With his left leg he kicked Kane and he fell down.

"He's incredibly strong." said Zelfire. "We've got to be careful."

They started attacking him again but his bulky body could take whatever they threw at him. They made a combo attack on him, then Terry used the Energy Blast as the final move. Goldark was only a little bit injured. He laughed as they watched in disbelief. They thought such powerful attacks would cause a lot of damage, but it barely hurt Goldark. After some more fighting, they grew tired, but Goldark wasn't tired at all. They decided to take him on individually. Zelfire was first, but he was beaten easily. Next was Kane. Kane lasted a bit longer than Zelfire, but he lost also. Finally, it was Terry's turn. His friends were counting on him, but he lost as well.

Then Terry said, "Guys, we have to fight together if we want to win." After a pause, Kane and Zelfire simultaneously answered, "Right!" Mason, Kane and Zelfire used their energy blasts at the same time.

"Hmmm, what are they up to?" wondered Goldark.

The three beams flew into the air, then combined into each other to form a thicker, more powerful beam.

"Huh?" Goldark fired some balls at the big beam, but it did no good. It hit him and bang! His body disintegrated slowly as he screamed one last time. In an instant, nothing was left of him but ashes and smoke.

"You did it!" yelled Lisa in excitement.

Terry happily said, "We did it together!"

"We make a great team." Zelfire added.

"Indeed we do." Kane said. "I've just met you earthlings, but it feels like we've known for many years. Spade, I must say, you surprised me by showing up here. It takes balls to do that."

Terry: "I don't abandon friends. Even if it's a new friend."

Kane smiled.

Piper joined them, but he could barely stand up. His leg gave up and Zelfire caught him just before he hit the ground.

"Careful there, old buddy."

"We won, haven't we?"

"Yes, we did. C'mon, let's get you to a hospital."

"I'm fine, really." Piper said.

"You can barely stand up!"

And everybody, even Kane, laughed together. But their laughter stopped when Destructo appeared in the sky.

Piper: "Oh no... it's him!"

Destructo: "I see you've destroyed my men. But things are going to change."

Spade: "Destructo! It's your turn to pay for your wrong doings."

Kane: "No matter what I will stop you from harming this planet."

Destructo: "You can try, but you will never succeed. Never."

The biggest threat has come. What will the heroes do now?

6: Desperate Battle! Destructo's Power.

Contents

The heroes have successfully defeated Destructo's sayans, and they were happy, until Destructo himself showed up. In an instant, their celebrating mood and happiness were gone by the presence of the mastermind behind this mess.

Destructo: "Heh heh heh heh, your time is up, earthlings. Prepare to perish."

Terry: "Guys, I know you're not gonna agree with me...but I want to fight him alone."

Zelfire: "What?! That's crazy! You can't fight him alone! He'll crush you!"

Terry: "Don't worry about me guys, I'll be fine." he said, smiling.

Zelfire had seen that smile before. That smile made him feel more reassured, and he grew silent.

Lisa: "What has gotten into you, Terry? What are you thinking?"

Kane: "I don't agree. I've been after Destructo for years. This is my chance to finish him off."

Mason: "But you're injured. You should take a rest."

Kane: "No Spade. Destructo is mine! No one will stop me from fighting him. You said it before yourself, we have to fight together to succeed. Team work is very important."

Destructo: "Listen, I decide who I will fight. How about it, Mason? I take you on first, then Kane will be second."

Terry: "You won't need to deal with Kane after you fight me."

Destructo: "You are too over confident. Now let me show you to your defeat. You think you can win just because you beat Renegade and the rest of those losers? I am nothing like them. My power level exceeds theirs by a landslide. Including yours as well."

Terry: "Whatever. Let's get it over with."

Lisa: "Be careful Terry."

"I will. Don't worry guys. I'll come back alive."

Destructo: "You'll come back alright, but you won't be alive. I'll deliver your corpse in pieces back to your friends."

"Yeah, you gotta beat me first."

"Don't think you have a chance against me just because you're a sayan. I eat sayan punks like you for breakfast."

"Breakfast? That reminds me. I haven't eaten anything all day. Lisa, can you prepare breakfast when I come back?"

"Sure thing. Just be alright." Lisa said.

Both warriors flew to the air, and Terry's friends wished him to come back safely. Kane was aggravated; he was reluctant to watch them leave. It is his mission, after all.

They flew to a deserted place, full of mountains and dry land.

Destructo: "Are you ready to lose, Mason?"

Mason: "I'm ready. To make you lose."

They started fighting violently. It was a fight like no other the planet earth had experienced. It was the most dangerous fight yet, as the titanic forces destroyed each other and everything around them. Energy blasted everywhere, destroying mountains and the ground it laid on. It was like a nuclear war between the forces of earth and outer space. After a while, it seemed Destructo had the advantage. Mason was completely injured, but Destructo had only a few minor scratches.

Zelfire, Piper, and Kane could feel the fight from where they are.

Zell: "Damn. They're going all out."

Lisa: "What's happening over there? Fill me in!"

Piper: "They're not holding back one bit. This fight will decide everything."

Kane's scouter beeped like crazy. "Why is he doing this? I should be the one to fight Destructo."

Zell: "Terry has...changed. Although he is the same person as before...but he's changed. Maybe it has something to do with his sayan heritage or something."

Kane: (Is it possible that his sayan blood is boiling for war? Is that why he's so hot-headed?)

Spade and Destructo exchanged power beams left and right. Boom! Kaboom!

Spade didn't know why he decided to do what he did. Maybe he felt responsible for this. Or maybe he's over confident about being a sayan. But one thing's for sure - he's going to take charge.

Terry noticed that ever since he discovered himself, he felt himself getting stronger and stronger. Growing at a phenomenal rate. Is it because he's accepted himself? Or is it because he's fighting against other sayans? No one knows.

Damn, this guy is tough, Terry thought. But I like a tough challenge. One rises to meet a challenge. And I will overcome it. This bastard isn't going to ruin my homeland, the land which I've been raised in and lived to protect. My master taught me, with great power, comes great responsibility. If I can help, then I will. I will become earth's guardian if I must. So much has happened lately. Too much. I am a sayan? But I have been raised as a human. With human culture. Am I really a sayan? Is Renegade my brother? I am from a place called Arlia?

Sayans...Renegade...Cyber Suits...Great War...none that matters! What matters is that I'm going to beat this bastard in front of me!

Distracted by his thoughts, Terry got hit.

"It seems that the outcome has been decided, Mason. I have won."

"Don't get too excited...It's not over yet."

Destructo gasped as he stared at Terry's chest. His shirt was torn from the attack, but under the shirt, he was wearing one of the Cyber Suits. It gave him a temporary boost in power.

Destructo: "So you've been wearing it all this time, eh? It is not going to help."

Terry ran into him and made a punch, but he missed. Destructo flew up vertically and fired a bunch of energy balls at Mason as he ascended into the air. The energy balls missed him and hit the ground, creating a cloud of smoke around Terry.

"Ha ha ha ha! I hope you liked that."

"Thanks for that, now this one is for you!" Terry, with both hands, fired an energy beam up towards Destructo.

BOOM! Destructo's scouter broke apart like cheap glass and then his body faded away as the beam pushed him up. The beam exploded just as it reached the horizon, and Destructo was completely destroyed. The explosion lighted up the sky, and it was a truly wonderful sight for Mason. Terry's friends saw it too, and they hoped it was Destructo who blew up.

Piper: "One of their ki's disappeared. Is it..."

Zell: "There is no doubt about it. Our Terry has won."

Kane: "Amazing...Even I had trouble with Destructo myself. Your friend is something else." (Mason...you have a lot of potential.)

In Destructo's headquarters, a strange sound caught Terry's attention. A spaceship flew out and rocketed into the sky. Inside was Ren, still unconscious in the healing chamber. Terry, as he watched the ship leave planet earth, said to himself, "We'll meet again, brother."

7: Arrival of Nimbus. Where Are My Cyber Suits?

Contents

After the duel with Destructo, the heroes celebrated their victory happily. Spade (or Mason) is practically the savior of planet earth. But, they never expected that there was someone more powerful than Destructo, waiting to destroy them.

Somewhere deep in space, another sayan space pod was traveling towards earth. It was night time, and the sky was especially dark that night. A space pod landed on the earth, and it was exactly identical to Ren's pod. There was an explosion, and the ship made a deep and large crater on the ground. The pod door opened, and a mysterious figure stepped out. He was also wearing the sayan soldier uniform and a warrior's outfit. He checked his scouter to examine the area.

"So, this is earth? The planet that people call beautiful? There's nothing pretty about this place. What a miserable planet. This is where Destructo was defeated. I predicted that would happen sooner or later, but I'd never guess he'd beaten by a sayan. No fighter is stronger than Destructo...except for me. Whoever this person is, he also took my Cyber Suits. I can't wait to meet this interesting person..."

Meanwhile, the heroes were celebrating their victory happily. Unfortunately, Kane had to leave since his job here was done. Every one was sad that he had to leave, and they tried to convince him not to go.

Lisa: "Do you really have to leave? Can't you stay a bit longer?"

Kane: "I'm sorry, but I have to get going. My job here is done, and I have to report back to Mascus."

Zelfire: "We'll miss you a lot."

Terry: "Kane, I'll never forget what you did for us. You helped me become what I am now."

Piper: "Yeah, without you, our fighting skills wouldn't have improved at all."

Kane: "I'll miss you too. But you're making it harder than it already is. You guys are my true friends, and I'll never forget you."

"Bye!" shouted Lisa and Piper together.

Terry: "Goodbye, Kane. Come back soon!"

Kane: "I will."

He got into the pod, and it launched into the atmosphere. The heroes continued waving. Kane never felt so welcomed in his life. He made some really good friends, and he truly wished he can come back, once the war is over.

Suddenly, a dark energy disk hurled toward Kane and destroyed his ship, blowing it up into pieces.

The others saw what happened. They were also able to feel the energy of the force responsible.

Zell: "What the hell!?"

Piper: "We gotta help him right away."

Without hesitating, the heroes flew there. Piper had to carry Lisa, since she can't fly. In the middle of flying, Terry suddenly stopped, and Zelfire stopped with him.

"What's wrong, Terry?"

"Nothing, just go ahead."

Piper went ahead, but Zelfire stayed. "Why did you stop?"

"Can't you feel it?" Terry said in a serious tone.

Zelfire concentrated, and he felt it too. A strong, killer presence. Nimbus appeared. They all landed.

Zell: "A-Are you the one who fired at Kane's ship?"

Nimbus: "Yes. That is what he gets for being a traitor."

Terry: "What the hell did you do that for? Are you asking for a beating?"

Nimbus: "Oh, you must be the loud-mouthed sayan named Mason, right?"

"Who wants to know?"

Nimbus: "You are the one who killed Destructo?"

"Yeah, it was me." Terry said proudly. "Are you one of his buddies?"

"His buddies? You have got to be kidding me. I am not 'buddies' with Destructo. He and his worthless gang of sayans are weaklings compared to me. In fact, I should thank you for getting rid of him. It saves me a lot of headaches."

Zelfire: "Destructo is a weakling?"

Nimbus: "Of course. Oh, my apologies, I haven't introduced myself yet. My name is Nimbus, and I am the strongest sayan in the universe."

Terry: "My name is Terry Spade, and I think you're full of shit."

Nimbus: "You think I'm exaggerating?"

Zelfire: "Another sayan? What do you want?"

"All I want are my Cyber Suits. Where are they?"

"Oh, those things? Sorry, but I threw them away." Terry said, smiling.

"Threw them away?!" Nimbus yelled angrily. "Do you know how much one of those things cost?! Do you realize what you've done? I will tear you from limb to limb if you don't give them to me now."

Zelfire: "What's the big deal about the Cyber Suits? What do they do?"

"Since you asked, I will tell you why they are so important. These suits were developed in a foreign planet, one with advanced technology, so advanced that they are hundreds of years ahead of the curve. They have been developing the Cyber Suits as the ultimate weapon for war. They can boost one's fighting power, and protect the warrior at the same time. It costs millions of Universal Units just to make one. I ordered Destructo to steal them for me, and deliver them to me on earth. This way, no one will find out where the suits are. Our transaction will be kept secret. But now it will have been delayed. My lord is waiting for those suits. Lord Spectre will not be happy."

Terry: "Who's Lord Spectre?"

Nimbus: "In any case, bring those suits to me. Come meet me in one hour."

Piper and Lisa went to Kane's aid. His pod was totaled and now useless. Kane was on the ground, rubbing his head.

Lisa: "Kane! Are you hurt?"

Kane: "I'm fine. I just got some minor scratches."

Piper: "Who did this?"

Kane: "I felt it before it hit me. It was Nimbus."

Piper: "Nimbus? Who is that?"

"Another sayan."

Lisa: "Another sayan? But...I thought...after we killed Destructo, this would be over, right?"

Kane: "Not quite. If Nimbus is involved, we're in for it now."

Piper grabbed Kane by the collar. "What do you mean?"

"Nimbus is a very dangerous sayan. He's not someone that we can handle.

Throughout the Dark Empire, he has been known for his strength and brutality. No one has lasted over six minutes in a fight with him."

Lisa: "Six minutes?"

"That's all he needs. He is essentially one of the key players of the Great War. He makes Destructo look unimportant. Damn it. The Dark Empire is not messing around at all. I have to call for help."

So, Terry and Zelfire went to confront Nimbus alone. They flew to where Nimbus said he would be, the place where Destructo met his demise.

It was night time already. It was dark everywhere. The heroes found Nimbus waiting by the pod in the impact crater.

Nimbus: "Ahh, you arrived at last. I thought you would never come."

Terry: "We didn't want to disappoint you."

"Where's Kane? Let me guess, he's too scared to come and fight me? That coward! And he calls himself a sayan!"

"I guess it's because he didn't want to see your ugly face." Zelfire said.

Nimbus got really pissed by that, but this time he wouldn't show his anger. "Alright then, I will ask you one more time. Where are the Cyber Suits?"

"Geez, what's your problem? We already told you, twice. We don't have it."

"So, that's your final answer? If I were you I wouldn't pick that choice. But...you had your chance. It's time to die! And after I kill you both, I'll ask Kane and your earthling friends where the suits are. Maybe they are more easily convinced."

Terry: "You leave them alone!"

Nimbus: "Why don't you make me?"

He made his first attack on Terry, but he missed. Terry gave him a jab in the chin, then a knee in his guts, and thought that would stun him for a while. To his surprise, Nimbus was perfectly okay, and he looked even tougher than Destructo.

Nimbus had the strength, and Terry and Zelfire had confidence on their side, but can they really defeat the one who claims to be the strongest sayan in the universe?

8: The Chimera! Six Minutes Until Doom!

Contents

"I just hope Terry and Zelfire can defeat Nimbus. Because if they don't, he'll come after us." Lisa said.

"Don't worry about it." Piper assured her. "Terry has defeated Destructo, right? And Zelfire's skills are pretty good too. With them together, I'm sure they can win."

"What do you think, Kane?"

"Can they win?"

"No." Kane said quietly.

"What do you mean no?" Piper asked, as if he was insulted.

"No means no! Do you know what the chances of beating Nimbus are? A thousand to one." Kane said.

"You're kidding, right?" Lisa asked.

"Would I joke about something like this? Nimbus is famous throughout the galaxies for his victories. His record is nearly flawless. Let me put it this way. I've already told you that all it takes to conquer a planet is handful of sayans. But Nimbus himself can do the same job."

"T-that means they're doomed!" Lisa cried.

It was already two and a half minutes into the fight. Nimbus had to admit to himself that this sayan and human were giving him a hard time. How come? They look like ordinary idiots, but their teamwork is amazing. It doesn't matter if there's one, two, or ten of them, it's all the same.

Throughout his life, Nimbus had always been recognized for his strength. He wins every fight. And this one is no exception.

Nimbus bowed in front of a mysterious figure hiding in the darkness. "My lord, everything is going according to plan. I have ordered Destructo to give me the Cyber Suits on a remote planet called earth.

"Earth? A neutral planet?"

"Yes, my lord. And we will proceed to take it over. Shall we eliminate all life forms on it?"

"That will not be necessary. Earthlings can be useful to us."

"What's the matter? Getting tired? I was just getting warmed up!"

Zelfire and Terry were tired and injured from the fighting. They had to catch their breath, and the evil sayan was laughing at them.

Terry paid no attention to him, but inside his head he foreshadowed what would happen if they did lose. Nimbus would probably kill him and his best friend, Zelfire, then he would go after Kane, Piper, and Lisa. I can't let that happen, he thought. "That's enough of this!" Terry yelled out loud.

Then, he used the Ultra Blast, the move that he used to defeat his brother. He had no control of the energy, it just came out from his body and went into his hands. He threw the beam at super high speed and Nimbus was hit and the explosion was incredible! The entire area lighted up and covered the whole area.

"Oh, look at that! How pretty." Lisa said.

"What is that light?"

"I don't know who caused that, but whoever did it must be very powerful." Kane said.

"Kane," Piper asked. "How much time has passed since the fight began?"

"Well, it's about three minutes. Which means that your friends have three minutes to live."

In another flashback...

Destructo and Nimbus saw each other in a dark hallway. Destructo began to talk. "The Cyber Suits will be delivered shortly."

Nimbus: "They better be. Don't disappoint me. It's not my mission you're serving, remember that. It is Lord Spectre's wish. If you fail, the consequences are dire."

"Tcch. I know that. Don't go on lecturing me on what's good for me, sayan."

They walked past each other.

Nimbus and Destructo never really liked each other. They're two people who just can't get along. In a way. Nimbus is glad Destructo is dead.

"In fact, I should thank you for getting rid of him. It saves me a lot of headaches."

Slowly, the brightness faded, and Nimbus was still alive and well.

Zelfire was amazed at Terry's new move. "How...where did you learn to do that?"

"I don't know. It just suddenly came and left. I had no control of it...I can't even believe I did that."

"That's amazing! You've used an attack that you never used, or learned before!"

Nimbus: "That's impossible! How could just use an attack just like that? How?! I had never seen anything like that before. You've ruined my suit! I'll make you pay for it."

Nimbus's suit was damaged, and blood was coming out from the crack.

"You're hurt, and I think our chances of winning has changed." Terry said.

"You're right. I can't possibly kill you now, not without my secret weapon, that is." Nimbus said.

Zelfire: "Secret weapon?"

"That's right. Looky here..." He took out a tube from his back pocket. The glass tube was filled with a green, slimy, liquid.

"What's that?" Terry asked.

"It's my secret weapon. Dark Spectre gathered the best scientists from all over the universe to create the perfect fighting machine...a machine that can't feel pain or emotions. Imagine a merciless, emotionless killer! However, we came to realize that such a goal was not possible. The closest they came to the goal was this! This liquid is called the Chimera by the scientists. Chimera was a legendary monster who slaughtered innocent beings without mercy! Whoever drinks this will become the ultimate warrior! I never thought I'd need it, this is first time. Mason, I must say you have been a worthy opponent. But now, say your prayers."

(Does that mean that stuff can turn a person into a monster?) Zelfire thought.

Nimbus continued: "This stuff changes one's DNA, but it won't have any harmful side effects. That's the beauty of it. Don't blink, what you're about to see will terrify you. You'll be the first ones ever to witness a transformation like this."

"Transformation?" Terry asked.

Nimbus drained the whole tube and gulped it down, and broke the tube with his hands. He laughed loudly and awaited his destiny. Seconds passed by, and suddenly he began to feel a bit of pain in his chest. His chest got bigger and bigger until it tore through his suit, his hands and feet turned into razor claws and his body continued to change as they watched in horror. Neither of them could speak, they could only watch him turn into the most gruesome monster they had ever seen. Once the transformation was complete, Nimbus was no more, he was the Chimera. His mouth was large and drooling and his sharp dinosaur like teeth looked lethal. His red staring eyes promised death and his tail lashed the ground, leaving a crack. His skin was white and nothing but armor. He drooled as he looked at the heroes. Nimbus roared like a lion.

Terry and Zelfire: "Uuuh...uuuhh..."

Nimbus (in a loud, angry voice): "What's the matter? Why are you shaking? Ohhh...did I scare you too much? I already warned you about this."

"Ah, ah, what is he?!" Terry asked, shaking.

"A m-m-monster!" Zelfire responded, trembling.

Nimbus licked his tongue. "You two will be a satisfying meal."

"No one is gonna eat us!"

Nimbus attacked them, and the first thing they noticed was its increase in speed and strength. It scratched Terry's chest and he felt like he was slashed by five blades. Zelfire grabbed its tail but he couldn't hold on to it. As he let go, Nimbus's tail whipped him, and he was down. Terry leaped back to avoid its claws, but Nimbus wasn't going to let his prey get away. Terry decided to make a run for it, but he ran into a dead end. He couldn't do anything but watch as the monster moved closer and closer to him. Terry knew he had to think fast or he would be bait. Zelfire used the Energy Blast and it flew above Nimbus and hit the cliff above.

"Get outta there!" Zelfire screamed as the boulders tumbled down.

Nimbus was caught by surprise and it was too late for it to run. "Nooooo!" In an instant, it was completely covered by a pile of rocks.

"Whew! That was a close one. Thanks Zelfire." Terry said.

"No problem, pal...Hey, you think he's dead?"

"I think he is, considering that the rocks hit him pretty hard."

Just as he said that, the rocks started to shake. Yep, you guessed it, it's alive! It recovered in an angry rage and a surge of energy came out of his body. All the rocks surrounding it were blasted into the sky. It roared angrily as if it's about to explode.

"I think he's angry."

"I think so too."

"This is all your fault Zelfire!"

"My fault?"

"Yeah, you were the one who caused the rocks to fall on him."

"I did it to save your behind."

Nimbus roared again, then drooled. "I'll crush you all!" It roared again and released immense energy from its scale-like body. The ground was shaking, and Terry and Zelfire could feel themselves shaking.

"Ahh, what's that energy?!"

"Stop moving around Piper." Lisa told him.

"I can't help it. Aren't you worried? I mean, Terry and Zell can die!"

"Yes, but we can't do anything about it."

"I'd love to go and help them," Kane interrupted. "But I'm afraid it's too late for that."

"Whadaya mean too late? Tell me!" Piper demanded.

"The time now is 4 minutes and 50 seconds into the fight, and that means your friends have about a minute left to live."

They could barely stand still. The whole ground was shaking, and falling apart. Terry and Zelfire ran for their lives as the ground disappeared behind them. Even the mountains were falling apart, unable to withstand Nimbus's force. As it cracked open, molten lava was revealed and suddenly things started getting really hot. Nimbus screamed and the lava exploded and flew everywhere. As the hot liquid struck the ground, the heroes had less space to run.

What was a quiet canyon was now a chaotic battleground. The whole place turned into a volcano, with Nimbus as its heart. Rocks flew everywhere, and getting hit by one at this speed would be instant death.

Nimbus sprang into the air like a leopard and roared at its targets. "You cannot escape my wrath! Now you will all feel my hate and suffer like no one has suffered!"

"What now?" Terry asked. He looked in all directions and there was no escape. Every possible route and path has been blocked, and the only way to survival was blocked by Nimbus. Could this really be the end for them?

Nimbus leaped at their direction, and Zelfire yelled "Take this!" He shot an energy beam and hit the creature directly, and it fell into a crack, into the lava.

The monster screamed and groaned in agony as the lava slowly swallowed it. "No! I will destroy you all..." Then it sank deeper and deeper and its claws desperately tried to hang on to something, but it only hit the air.

A whole plethora of thoughts entered Chimera's mind. I can't lose like this! I had them right where I wanted them! I've never been defeated before...never. I am the strongest sayan in the universe. I have never been defeated before...

But just then...Nimbus flashed back to a time when he was defeated one other time in his lifetime. It was a humiliating and embarrassing event, and he tried his best to forget it. But in that moment near death, Nimbus realized that he wasn't the best. The title of strongest sayan in the universe is a fib. He used to intimidate his opponents.

I...I am losing. I am not the best. I am an idiot.

Finally, the creature was sucked in entirely and the ground started to come back together, as if healing itself. Soon all the lava was hidden once again and everything was quiet.

Terry and Zelfire just sat their butts on the ground, and panted for breath. They couldn't believe they are still alive.

So, Terry and Zelfire told their amazing adventure to the others, and they were shocked. Kane couldn't believe that they not only survived, but they destroyed the evil Nimbus.

Zell: "So Kane, now that your ship is gone, what will you do now?"

"Well, Zelfire, since I have no way of getting outta here, I guess I'm stuck here for now."

Lisa: "Kane, this can be a good thing. We can stay together and learn more about each other."

"Yeah, Kane, you can hang out with us." Piper said.

Kane: "Sounds good. But you know I can't stay here forever."

Terry: "We know, but we're just glad you're here with us. We'll give you the full details of our wonderful planet, and by the time we're through, I guarantee you'll be just one of us."

The heroes have once again proved their courage once again by fighting to the death with the powerful monster, surviving the 'six minute curse.' Though Nimbus was indestructible, it was his own rage that had caused his demise.

9: Arrival of the G-Force. Kane's Disappearance.

Contents

Not far from the earth, there was a spherical spaceship floating in space patiently, waiting for its leader's command. Inside, Rasputin watched the beautiful earth from a large round glass. Soldiers were standing in straight lines waiting for their orders.

"Ah, planet earth. Isn't it pretty? Soon it'll be mine." Rasputin said, staring at the large blue sphere.

"But why earth? There are tons of other planets you can capture." asked Lieutenant Zarbon.

"Yes, that's true, but on earth the population is enormous. And that means more slaves for me."

"Oh, I see. So you plan to enslave human kind?"

The ship's main door opened, and two battleships flew towards earth in opposite directions.

"But you know, earth will not be so easy to..."

"Of course it is easy. Just watch, within days my task will be complete, and all humans will be my slaves..."

The ships landed on the ground producing a loud sound and a lot of smoke. Kane's scouter suddenly detected two alien objects reaching the surface of the planet, so he decided to investigate the situation. "What's going on? What does this mean?" he asked himself as he flew.

He checked his scouter again to confirm the location of the first ship. Once he reached the landing site, he hid behind a bush. He saw some soldiers standing in a perfectly straight line. Then, Lt. Zarbon came out of the ship. He walked passed them, examining each of the soldiers.

"Now is the time to attack! Show the humans what you can do!" Zarbon said.

Suddenly, Zarbon felt something unusual. He looked around, trying to figure out what it was.

Kane realized that he had been discovered and made a run for it, but he was caught. The soldiers chased after him and pointed their guns at him. Before they could fire, Kane attacked them, while Zarbon watched the fight, interested in Kane's skills. When Kane was open, he threw a net at Kane, and was trapped.

Zarbon: "Now I've got you!"

"Oh no! I can't escape! I've got to warn the others about this!"

"Heh heh heh, you'll be punished dearly for trying to stop the G-Force."

One of the remaining soldiers injected something into Kane's arm, and he fell asleep instantly.

Meanwhile, the heroes were enjoying their day, completely oblivious to what happened to Kane and the danger they were about to face. They were still shocked over what happened with Destructo and Nimbus. A break sounded like a good idea.

While the group was shopping, Zelfire just tagged along, thinking about some things. He thought about the day he first met Terry. He'll never forget it. They were just kids back then.

Terry and Piper were having a friendly spar, and little Zelfire watched with interest. Master Lang clapped his hands. "Alright students. That's enough for now. I'd like to introduce you to my new pupil."

Zelfire shyly came out from the back of Lang's legs, and said: "Hi, my name is Zelfire Lang."

"Name's Terry Spade." the kid said, pointing at himself.

"And I'm Piper Chung."

From the moment they first met, they knew they'd be best friends. And it still holds true today.

The three pupils have been competing forever. Terry became the top student, Zelfire second, and Piper third, though they never judged each other by rank. Zelfire and Terry always competed, they fought day after day to keep each other in check, making sure they keep up with each other's growth.

And that's how their life has been. Deep down inside, this was a good life for Zelfire. But on the flip side of the coin, he's always been frustrated that he's not as good as Terry. He felt that out of all them, he's the most hardworking.

Lisa: "Zelfire, c'mon. Quit staring into space."

Zell snapped out of his trance. "Alright, wait up, guys!"

They reached the center of the mall, and suddenly figures were flying in the air. The G-soldiers were standing on flying disks, dressed in black and equipped with laser guns.

All the citizens panicked as they ran for their lives and screamed like hell. The troops start shooting at the people, cars, buildings, and anything else that could be a target.

"Who are they?" Piper asked.

"I don't care. They're making a scene. Let's get them." said Terry.

Zelfire said to Lisa, "You better hide. You'd be safe from them." Lisa immediately found a hiding place and stayed there, while Zelfire, Piper and Terry attacked the soldiers.

Linea saw them and shouted at Mason, "Hey, stop attacking our soldiers."

"Then why did you attack the people?" he answered.

"These humans are weak. They don't even make good practice. This city now belongs to the Guardian-Force."

"What force?" Zelfire asked.

"The G-Force!" answered Zax, another of the G-soldiers.

"Hey, what are you waiting for? Finish them off!" Zelfire said to his allies.

"You'll regret interfering with us! It's time to die!" Zax said.

The two troops flew around them in circles, and were laughing. They started shooting ice rays and fire beams at them. Lisa witnessed the whole fight and she was amazed by it. After a tough battle, Linea and Zax were beaten and injured as they lay on the floor.

"I can't believe this...We've been defeated." Linea moaned.

"Tell me, who are you working for?" Terry demanded.

"We'll never tell you! Make us!"

"Why you lousy piece of...I outta..." Zelfire said angrily.

Terry stopped Zelfire, trying to calm him down.

Linea: "Our leader will finish you off in an instant!"

Zax: "Long live the G-Force!"

They both pushed a button on their sleeves, and fire came out of their combat boots. They rocketed into the air, escaping the heroes.

"So long, suckers!" Zax mocked them.

"What?! They're escaping!" Piper said hopelessly.

"Wow. Their technology is amazing!" Terry said.

Zelfire: "Terry, now's not the time to compliment them!"

Piper: "I can't believe we let them get away!"

Lisa, once realized that there was no more danger, joined them. "Who were they?" she asked.

"The G-force." Terry answered plainly.

Linea and Zax reported to the mother ship. They kneeled down before their leader, Rasputin. The alien turned around and looked at them with curious eyes. "What is it Zax and Linea? Aren't you two supposed to be on earth?"

"Forgive us, master Rasputin, we've failed you." Zax said.

"Well, that's not like you. You two never failed before, and I'm quite disappointed. The earthlings should be of no problem to you."

"Let us explain. When we assaulted the city, several humans interfered with us." Linea said.

Rasputin: "Humans? They have defeated the both of you, along with your entire squad? They must be very good."

"Master, please give us another chance. We'll crush them this time, I promise." Zax pleaded.

"Yeah!" Linea said.

Rasputin: "No. Let me handle this. You can go back to your quarters."

Linea: "But, master...."

"Now!!!" the leader screamed loudly.

"As you wish!" they responded together, and exited through the back door.

Rasputin: "No one, and I mean no one can defeat the G-force! No one!" Rasputin directed the second battleship towards Network City hoping to meet the ones who beat his highly trained officers. As the heroes were trying to figure out what happened, a dark and evil shadow covered the city. When Terry looked up into the sky, the sun was no longer there.

10: The Mysterious Zorton.

As Mason and the others watched the large disk blocking out the sun, the city was getting closer to its doom. They had no problem with the officers, but will Rasputin be so easy? And what about Kane? Will they ever find out about him or will he be left there to die?

Rasputin slowly descended onto the ground, examining Terry and the others. "Hmmm, look at what I found here. You defeated Linea and Zax?" he asked.

"That's right. We did it." Zell said proudly.

"But more importantly, who are you?" Terry asked.

"My name is Rasputin, the leader of the G-Force."

"My name is Piper."

"I'm Zelfire."

"And I'm Terry."

"You are earthlings?"

Rasputin: "Earthlings, hmm? I never guessed earthlings can be this strong."

Zell: "Then keep on guessing. Underestimating the enemy, particularly if you're making the first strike, is a fatal mistake."

"And I guess you're not going to let me do as I wish peaceably?"

"Absolutely not." Piper said. "In fact, it'd be best if you just leave, before any gets hurt."

Rasputin: "Get hurt? I would surrender now if I were you. Soon, you'll find out why no one messes with the G-Force." Rasputin sent a wave of energy at them. Kaboom!

"Wow! What a force! He's no ordinary fighter." Terry exclaimed.

Zell: "We've got to stop him!"

Terry began to attack Rasputin, but then a bright light appeared from the ship and sucked them into the ship! Rasputin laughed triumphantly. The light then sucked Zelfire, then Piper, and finally Lisa.

Rasputin: "With them out of the way, I can take over earth without any worries." Then he flew into the ship.

Inside the other ship was Kane, who was now a prisoner of the G-Force. He trapped in a cage with electric bars around it. In front of him G-Force officers and soldiers were working.

Kane was yelling and screaming, trying to annoy the hell out of the officers. "Let me out! Let me out! Now! Let me out! You can't keep me here forever!"

"Shut up! Be quiet!" one of the annoyed officers yelled back.

"Let me outta here first."

"Yeah, in your dreams."

"There's no way we're letting you outta here, and don't even think about escaping." Zax said.

Kane: "Why you little..."

Zax: "You're lucky that you're even alive. It's master Rasputin's decision to keep you alive. You fool, you don't know how lucky you are. We don't usually spare people. I don't even know why Rasputin wants to keep you alive. Just accept your fate and enjoy the rest of your life while you can."

"That's right, and there's nothing you can do about it." the officer added.
"Nothing!"

Kane was really angry and grunted at them.

Officer: "What? You're getting mad huh? Well why don't you come out and stop me, baldy! Come on."

"Baldy?!!" Kane said, insulted. "That's it!" He grabbed the bar, but the electric waves ran through his body and gave him a 'little' shock. The voltage was so intense he lost all strength and fell.

"Ha ha ha ha! What an idiot! I warned you about that! But did you listen...no." the officer said.

Suddenly, there was an explosion. Boom! "What was that?" Zax yelled in surprise.

A mysterious figure appeared front of him, dressed in complete body armor, and a face mask that covered his whole head. "Who are you?!" The person blasted Zax, and he died instantly, with smoke burning from his corpse.

The soldiers were too scared to move after witnessing his move. "He's really strong. He just killed that guy faster than anyone I know..." Kane commented to himself.

The soldiers shot Zorton, but his suit made him invulnerable. He beat them up easily.

"Greetings, my name is Zorton. I came here to save you, Kane."

"How do you know my name?"

"Let's talk about his later! Other guards are coming!" Zorton broke the bars, and set Kane free.

As they ran towards the door, more soldiers came in. They fought together against the guards and they made a great team. The guards couldn't even lay their hands on them. They took over the ship.

"We did it. We made a great team!" Kane said.

"Yes, you're not bad at all."

"Alright, I think it is time for an explanation. How do you know me?"

"No time to explain. Mason and the others are in great danger! They've been captured." Zorton said.

"How do you know so much about us?"

Zorton ignored his questions and flew out the ship quickly.

Meanwhile, Mason, Lisa, Zelfire, and Piper were imprisoned in the second ship. Their cell was a small room guarded by electric bars, just like Kane's.

"How long are they gonna keep us here?" Zelfire moaned.

"We're gonna be stuck here forever! There's no way we can get out of here!" Lisa started to cry.

"Calm down Lisa, we'll get out of here, somehow." Piper said convincingly.

Lisa: "Maybe they're gonna kill us! We're goners! Waaah!"

"No, I don't think so. If they want to kill us, they would've done it a long time ago. Looks like they want to use us." Terry said.

"For what?" Piper asked.

"I don't know. Maybe we have something they want."

Then a guard opened the bars. "You, master Rasputin wants to meet you, alone. The rest of you stay." He pointed at Terry.

"Me?... I don't have a choice, do I?" Terry walked out and the guard closed the bars. "Don't worry guys. I'll be fine."

"We'll be waiting for you, right here." Piper said calmly.

Guard: "Right this way."

The guard took Terry Spade into a narrow hallway and at the end was a large, round room. Rasputin was looking at the city from the round window, very similar to the one in the mother ship in which he used to watch the earth.

Rasputin turned around. "Welcome to my ship."

Terry: "Nice to meet you too. Let's get to the point. What do you want?"

Rasputin: "I want your energy!"

"I don't think so!" Terry made a punch, but Rasputin blocked it. Then he zapped Terry. Zzzzzzzzzzzt!

"Hey, let go! AAAAAHH! What are you doing to me?!"

While Rasputin was still zapping him, he said: "What does it look like? I'm taking your energy! Every time I drain some one's energy I get stronger!"

"Why-why-you're stealing my energy!"

"Well, I think of it more as 'borrowing.'"

"AAAAAH! Stop!...Stop!" Terry felt weaker and weaker, to the point when his legs gave up and he fell on his knees.

Terry fainted and the alien laughed. "Ha ha ha ha! Thanks for your energy."

The mysterious Zorton had already freed Kane and was on his way to save the others. Who was this stranger? How did he know about the heroes, and if he did know, could he be some one they know? Now, their lives were in the hands of the new savior!

The guards brought the fainted Mason back to his cell. They tossed him in there and closed the bars. "Oh no! What have they done to you?" Lisa shrieked.

Terry woke up drowsily and weakly said: "H-h-he drained m-my energy!"

Piper: "That's terrible!"

Lt. Zarbon and Rasputin discussed plans to take over earth in the control room. They had no idea what had happened in the first battle ship, and they're in for a surprise!

"So, everything is ready?" Rasputin asked.

"Yes master, everything is working fine." Zarbon answered.

"Good."

"Forgive me for being nosy, but what are you going to do with the captured earthlings?"

"I already drained the energy from the strongest one, so they are of no use to me. They'll be disposed of."

Meanwhile, Kane explored the ship and found a large room with an arsenal of missiles. "Look at these things! They're huge! The G-Force is planning to use them to conquer earth! I hope Zorton can save the others in time."

As Terry recovered, he and his friends were about to meet their doom. The cell wall released a mechanical sound, and holes were revealed, spraying a toxic gas.

Piper (sarcastically): "Oh no! This is just great!"

"We're gonna die!" Lisa shrieked.

"No, we can't die like this! This can't be!" Terry said.

As they grasp for air, the ceiling cracked apart. Zorton dropped in, and he broke the electric bars with his bare hands.

"Ahhh, fresh air!" Piper said.

Zorton said to them: "Let's get out of here!"

The security alarm sounded in the ship and all the soldiers ran everywhere. Zorton safely took them to his ship, the Cruiser. He told them to get inside. They did what he said, and Zorton jumped into the pilot's seat. He directed the Cruiser out of the battleship and escaped unharmed.

Once at a safe distance things began to calm down. A few minutes passed by and no one said a word. Zelfire began to speak, but Zorton interrupted him. "I know what you're going to ask me. My name is Zorton, and you can call me a friend. I just rescued Kane from the G-Force."

"Kane was captured?"

"Yes, but he's ok now. I know what else you're going to ask me. Why am I helping you? Well, I can not tell you now."

"Why not?" Lisa asked.

Zorton began to answer, but instead yelled: "Because we are being chased!"

Everybody looked south, and saw three ships shooting at them!

"He's right!" Terry added with fear.

"Hang on, Cruiser!" yelled Zorton. He piloted carefully, trying to avoid the laser beams from the attackers. With some incredible flying skills, Zorton was able to escape them without any damage to the Cruiser, and the air chase ended.

Rasputin: "So, you lost them?"

Captain: "Yes, they got away. They were too clever."

"You disgust me! Get out of here now!" the Lt. yelled at him.

The captain left the room immediately. As he exited, Linea entered the room.

"What is it?" Rasputin asked impatiently.

"I have some bad news." she began. "Our bald friend has escaped! He killed Zax and took over our ship!"

"Kane? Forget about him. I'll deal with him later. Zarbon!"

"Yes, master."

"Come with me. It's time to dispose of those earthlings."

Rasputin and Zarbon flew towards the landing site of the Cruiser. They saw the Cruiser in the middle of the grass field, and the heroes standing there.

"Looks like we found them. Hmmm, you must be the one who set them free." Rasputin said.

"That's right!"

"Guys, just stay put. I want to fight with Zorton, we can handle them by ourselves." Terry said.

"Affirmative." Zorton said.

"Well, alright." Zelfire said calmly.

"Are you sure about this?" Piper asked.

"Don't worry, we'll be fine." Terry said, in the same tone of confidence he had just before he fought Nimbus.

"Good luck, guys." Lisa said.

"Thanks, Lisa."

Rasputin: "It's a two on two! This will be one of the most exciting duels we'll experience, don't you agree, Lieutenant Zarbon?"

"Yes, this will certainly be some fight."

The air grew tense as the warriors prepared themselves mentally.

11: Two on Two.

Contents

Terry and Zorton were preparing to fight while the others waited from a safe distance. "Zorton and Terry will win, right?" Lisa asked.

"Of course. Terry has never let us down before." Zelfire answered confidently.

"Yeah, he's right. Don't worry about them." Piper said.

"Terry, you'll take Zarbon, and I'll take Rasputin."

"But I want to take on Rasputin."

"No, he is too dangerous and unpredictable. Let me do it."

"Fine." Terry replied.

"That's fine with me." Rasputin said.

Seconds later, the battle started. They blurred out of sight and split up.

Terry and Zarbon began to brawl, punching the daylights out of each other. They seemed pretty even...for now.

Zarbon: "Heh, you guys are in for it now. I've never met anyone stupid enough to defy the G-Force."

Terry: "G-Force this, G-Force that...you know, I'm starting to get tired of hearing this."

"Heh. Your little friend wanted to take on Master Rasputin. That is going to be the stupidest decision in his life. You two should have been arguing not to fight him."

Terry got annoyed. "Quiet, you!"

"Insolent earthling. I wonder how Rasputin is torturing your friend?"

Terry fired the Ultra Blast. Zarbon fired a beam. Terry's blue beam split up into mini-beams, and they all hit Zarbon. He screamed in pain as he got hit.

On the other front, Zorton was winning against Rasputin, but he had not used his secret weapon yet.

Rasputin: "You think you're winning, don't you, my friend? Well, you're wrong."

"What do you mean?"

"You'll find out, right now! So don't blink!" Rasputin began powering up and energy was running through his body. Suddenly his body was flashing and was getting brighter with each flash.

"What is going on?" Zorton asked, stunned. Suddenly, Rasputin's body disappeared. "Where did he go?"

"Ha ha ha ha ha! What's the matter? Can't see me?" He strikes Zorton.

"Arrg!...He's invisible! How did he learn to do that?"

"Let me ask you this, my friend, how do you fight some one you can't see?" Rasputin continuously hit him. Zorton hit back, but missed every time. Now, the duel has turned around, with Rasputin having the advantage.

As the others were waiting anxiously to find out who will win, Linea led the G-Force soldiers to attack them. Zelfire and Piper were caught off guard by the surprise attack. Linea captured Lisa as the others were fighting. Linea flew off, standing on the flying disk and grabbing on to Lisa with her hands.

"Hey, let me go! Let me go!"

"Shut up!" Linea shouted.

"Let me go!"

"Idiot! Stop struggling, you don't want to fall, do you?!"

"Let go of me!"

A bright star appeared in the sky. The star got bigger and bigger, and Lisa recognized that it was Kane. Linea fired an ice beam, but she missed. Kane hit Linea, knocked her off the disk. Kane quickly grabbed Lisa's hand, preventing her from falling.

"Kane!" Lisa exclaimed, happy to see him.

The soldiers lost to the combination of Piper, Zelfire, and Kane. Soon, there was a pile of beaten up bodies. The rest of the soldiers ran away like cowards.

Meanwhile, Zorton was losing badly. Rasputin kept on hitting him, and Zorton finally realized that he couldn't spot Rasputin with his eyes.

"What's the matter? Why did you stop? Are you giving up so soon?"

"I've got to stop trying to spot him. I've got to sense him." He took a deep breath, then waited. Rasputin attempted a hit at him, but Zorton evaded the attack and retaliated.

"How does he know where I am?"

"Your little tricks don't work on me any more." Zorton said, smiling behind the mask. He knocked Rasputin into the river and made a big splash. Rasputin got out of the water, but he was no longer invisible.

"No! My suit is ruined!"

"You lose. I might not be able to see you with my eyes, but I still have the sixth sense. Any high level fighter has a sixth sense. And I can sense your energy. No matter how much you suppress it, I can still feel your presence."

"That's it! No more games. I'm going to finish you off once and for all." Rasputin zapped him.

"What, what are you doing to me?" Seconds later, he lay on the ground unconscious.

"Thanks for the energy, my friend!"

Terry showed up and saw Zorton laying there. "Zorton! No, you didn't...you took his energy!"

"That's right. Now it's your turn."

"No thanks, getting my energy drained once is enough."

Rasputin fired his zapping ray, and Terry back flipped away, keeping a maximum distance. This time, he's careful not to get zapped.

Terry moved his arms in a circular motion.

Rasputin: "What style of fighting is this?"

Terry smiled. "Hmm. I've been trained by the greatest master in the world. Now, you're going to get it."

Kapow! Bam! Terry beat him. It turns out Rasputin was weak against physical close-range combat.

"No, this can't be. I should be stronger now with Zorton's energy."

"But even with borrowed energy, you lose. See how pathetic you are?"

Rasputin: "I can't believe I lost to an earthling."

"Look, I'm not a cold blooded killer. So I'm going to let you go, only if you promise to leave earth and never come back here again."

Rasputin: "Alright, I promise."

"Then get out of here, now."

Rasputin left the plains, angry and defeated. The G-Force leader gave his word to Terry, but can this guy be trusted?

Terry stared at the sky thoughtfully as he waited for Zorton to wake up. The others joined them. Lisa looked at Zorton, and asked him, "Is he..."

"No, he's still breathing. His energy was drained. He just needs some rest.

Zelfire: "Look, Kane is here."

Kane: "Hey guys."

Piper: "Zorton says he saved you too." Piper said.

"It's true."

Lisa: "But how does Zorton know so much about us?"

Kane: "That's what I want to know."

Piper: "Since he's here...and unconscious...let's see what his face looks like."

Kane: "No...that would be wrong of us."

Zorton woke up dazed and confused. "What happened? Where is Rasputin?"

"There's no need to worry about him. I defeated him, and-"

"And..."

"I let him go."

"You did what?" he asked in shock.

A few hours later in the mother ship, Rasputin was completely recharged. Zarbon entered the control room.

Zarbon: "Master Rasputin..."

"Enough! Not another word out of you! You have been beaten by an earthling. You failed me."

"I'm sorry master! Give me another chance, please!"

"You will get no more chances! He he he he..."

Zarbon: "No, not that! Anything but that!" Rasputin drained every last drop of his energy until he was a goner. Zarbon collapsed, with smoke burning from his body. Now, Rasputin was stronger than ever, and ready for revenge.

"If I can't take over earth, then I might as well destroy it!"

Rasputin directed the mother ship towards the earth. It entered the atmosphere and slowed down because of its huge size. Kane's scouter detected its movements and He immediately warned the others about this.

Zorton: "We've got to stop them now, before it's too late!"

"What's the rush?" Terry asked.

"You have no idea, do you?"

"Huh?" Zelfire shrugged.

"The mother ship of the G-Force is very deadly! It has the power to destroy this whole planet!"

"That's amazing!" Piper said surprisingly.

Terry quietly said to himself, "I can't believe I trusted Rasputin. That's it. He's run out of chances."

"Look, the only way to stop them is to fly the Cruiser into the ship and take over it inside."

"Fine. I'm coming with you." yelled Piper excitedly.

"Me too." Terry continued.

"Me three." said Zelfire.

Kane decided not to join them, thinking he had to handle things on earth. "I can't come with you all. I've got to warn the citizens of this planet about this so they don't get hurt."

Zorton: "You can try, but no one will believe you."

Kane: "I've got to try. I can't let innocent people die."

Zorton: "Fine, do as you wish."

So Zorton, Zelfire, Mason and Piper got on the Cruiser and it flew out of there.

Lisa: "I'm coming with you, Kane!"

Kane: "Hurry Lisa, we don't have much time."

The Cruiser approached the sphere at a high speed. "We've detected Zorton's ship!" the captain said.

Rasputin: "Shoot it down!"

"Yes, sir."

Laser cannons popped out of the sphere and they start shooting at the Cruiser. Zorton, being a skilled pilot, managed to avoid all the laser beams, and flew right into the sphere! On impact it went through the steel wall, making a big hole. Terry and the others got out of the Cruiser and ran towards the control room, where Rasputin was waiting to kill them. The guards couldn't stop them at all. They were an unbeatable team.

Finally, after getting lost a few times, they reached the control room. All of them had a feeling a final duel will happen, and this time Rasputin won't be so easy.

"Welcome my friends, I've been expecting you. What took you so long?" he asked in a 'friendly' way.

"I'm not your friend." Zorton said in an unfriendly way.

"We know you're going to use this ship to destroy earth. But it is not going to happen while we're alive.

Piper: "That's right."

Zelfire: "Your day has come, Rasputin."

Rasputin: "Listen up, earthlings, you're about to learn your final lesson! The lesson of death!"

"The only one who needs to learn is you." Terry backfired.

"Fools. You think you can beat me, do you? Just because you beat me last time. But now, with Zarbon's energy, I'm more powerful than ever!"

Zelfire looked at Zarbon's body laying on the floor. "You would do this even to your own ally? You're disgusting."

"He was of no use to me, so I had to make use of him... Soon you'll be joining him. You are about to have your energy drained...for the last time!"

Mason, Zelfire and Piper grunted angrily. More guards came into the room.

Rasputin: "Get them!"

The guards started attacking them. Zorton charged at Rasputin, but he sent a shockwave at Zorton and it hit him! Zorton was thrown at the wall by the shockwaves. Crash! "How did you like that?"

Zorton: "Ouch."

After the guards were down, Mason fought Rasputin with the help of Zelfire and Piper. It wasn't much of a fight. They couldn't even get near him. Rasputin sent a wave of energy at them, and the whole room was shaking! Everyone felt it, especially Terry, who was closest to the source. Everyone except Rasputin fell down.

Rasputin: "Ha ha ha ha ha ha! How do you expect to fight me if you can't even get near me?"

Zorton shot a big energy ball at him, but he blocked it.

Zorton: "I can't believe it! How could he block that?!"

Terry slowly got back to his feet.

Rasputin: "You just don't know when to give up, earthling."

"That's right. I never give up, no matter how tough the problem is." And that is true for him. He lived by this motto and never doubted it one bit.

"This will be your final moment of your life. Say goodbye..." Rasputin powered up as he concentrated all of his body's energy into his fists. He released the spheres at Terry, and suddenly, Terry used the Ultra Blast. Boom! They hit and create a huge explosion in the middle of the room. The blast was so bright all of them covered their eyes from getting hurt by the light. Even Rasputin couldn't believe what he was seeing.

"But how...how can he be so strong?!"

Zorton seized the chance and threw a red energy ball at Rasputin. Whack! It pushed him out of the ship.

In his final moments before death, Rasputin was completely appalled. (I am one of the strongest people alive...how can I be beaten by mere earthlings? How? Unless...unless...they are not earthlings? Unless...they are...sayans.)

Kaboom! The ball exploded, along with Rasputin.

All of the computer screens and keyboards and electrical devices in the room were destroyed. One at a time they blew up, and the heroes realized it wasn't long before the whole complex would go kaboom.

"It's going to blow! Get out of here!" Zorton shouted against the noise. The four of them ran like hell towards the Cruiser. They ran and ran, Zelfire looked behind and saw the blazing fires were right after them.

On the ground, Lisa and Kane could see the sphere exploding. "Oh no! It's blowing up. I hope they are out of there."

"I hope you're right." Kane said worriedly.

Finally, they reached the Cruiser. Without wasting any time, they quickly got in, and Zorton flew it out of there. The sphere exploded just as they left. They were very lucky, if they were even two seconds late they'd be toast. The Cruiser safely landed on the ground. They got out with an unusually happy attitude.

Terry: "Thank you. We couldn't have done it without you."

Zorton responded: "No problem. I just wanted to protect our planet."

Zelfire: "Let's celebrate!"

"Yeah, we deserve a break." Piper said.

Terry: "Want to join us?"

Zorton: "No thanks. I have more important things to do."

Terry: "Like what?"

Zorton: "I can't tell you now. I have to go..."

Terry: "Well, see you later."

Zorton: "Goodbye..." He entered the Cruiser again and left.

So, they survived another fine mess. The heroes are truly grateful for this stranger's help. Although he's not outgoing and open, Terry knew that one day, perhaps one day, he will open up to them, and reveal his identity. The sunset seemed more beautiful that day than any other day.

13: Starburst's Challenge.

Contents

Two months have passed since the fall of the G-Force. Peace and tranquility endured, but it didn't last for long. Deep in outer space, an alien watched a recorded fight between Mason and Zelfire and Nimbus.

"What a powerful warrior indeed. He has beaten Destructo and Nimbus. I would love to meet this sayan named Mason." He wagged his tail in pleasantness.

Galactus: "Mason? Hmmm, that name sounds familiar."

Galactica: "Of course."

Starburst: "What is it?"

Galactica: "He is the son of Burdok!"

Starburst: "You mean the traitor?"

Galactus: "Yes, now I remember."

Starburst: "I'm sure he would make a worthy opponent."

Galactus: "Yes, he seems to be stronger than most Sayans are."

Galactica: "You're only saying that because Nimbus was defeated by him. He claimed to be 'the strongest sayan in the universe,' but that was just a bluff."

Galactus: "You may be right about that. We all know who the strongest sayan is."

Starburst: "Take us down to earth, now."

Galactus and Galactica (together): "Yes, Starburst!"

The heroes were living their normal lives again, with Kane as their newest member in the group. He adopted earth's customs already and was getting used to it.

One day Lisa decided that they should do something exciting, and called for a get-together. She suggested they take a vacation from their lives and go mountain climbing for several days. They thought it was a good idea, so they planned for that day.

Today was that day. By now, they were half way to the top.

The sun was beginning to rise, and...

"Wow, you're right. The air is much fresher in this altitude." Kane said as he stood on the very edge of the mountain road.

"Yep, there's nothing like a mountain climbing vacation." Zelfire said. "Back on ground level the air is filled with pollution from the cities."

"I knew you guys would love it here. You can thank me later for giving you this idea. And doing all the planning for you." Lisa commented.

"It's so peaceful and quiet up here." Terry said.

"C'mon Terry, come watch the sunset with us!" Zelfire said.

So he joined them.

The five of them together were dazed by the beauty of the sky as the sun rose, but their enjoyment was interrupted by a distant explosion. Some of the trees below caught fire and they could see the smoke.

Kane: "What is that?"

Zelfire: "A big explosion."

The heroes could sense the presence of the warrior who caused it. "Guys..." Terry said, sweating. "I have a bad feeling about this."

Zelfire: "There is no way that can be a natural disaster. It has be caused by a single person."

Kane: "A single person..."

Piper: "Could this be another one of your friends, Kane?"

"I don't know." the guy replied.

Zelfire: "Let's check it out. My curiosity is killing me."

Piper: "Is that a good idea?"

Kane: "Alright, let's go."

The five of them traveled towards the fire that was produced. When they arrived at the scene, all they saw was a big fire.

"What could have caused this?" Terry asked.

"Who would do such a horrible thing?" Lisa said.

Terry: "We've got to put out this fire before it spreads through the whole forest!"

Piper: "But how?"

Suddenly, a big gust of wind blew against them, and it was so strong it put out the fire and lifted them off their feet. Everybody held on to something and closed their eyes. When it was over they were all confused.

Zelfire: "Uuuuuh...what happened?"

Terry: "Uuuuh..."

"That was some strong wind." Lisa said.

Kane: "No kidding! It blew out the fire."

Piper: "How can that be? This day is getting too weird. Can some one explain what's going?"

"I'll explain." said a voice from the sky. Everyone directed their attention to the aliens.

He landed on the ground with Galactus and Galactica standing besides him.

Lisa: "W-who are they?"

Kane: "Can it be him?"

Terry: "Who?"

Kane: "It's Starburst!"

Starburst: "I'm glad someone here still recognizes me. I never expected to find you here, Kane."

Kane: "I'm glad someone knows me, too."

Starburst: "Heh heh heh, how could I not know you? I've heard so many stories of you saving planets. Those rumors are everywhere!"

Kane: "Those aren't rumors, they're facts!"

Piper, confused: "What is going on here? I think I'm getting left out."

(They seem to know each other. This Starburst guy is no ordinary foe. I gotta be careful.) Terry thought.

Starburst: "I see you've made some friends on this planet. You must be so proud!"

Kane: "I don't want to hear your sarcasm."

Starburst: "No, I mean it. You have done well, Kane. You managed to know a friend like Mason, one of the strongest sayans I've ever known."

[Split screen - 4] - [Lisa, Zelfire, Piper, Terry].

Terry: "How do you know?"

Starburst: "I know more than you think, my dear friend. I've been watching you, and throughout the last few battles you've shown incredible strength. Destructo and Nimbus died at your hands! You really amaze me."

"Alright, enough talk. What do you want?"

Galactus: "Isn't it obvious? Our boss wants to challenge you."

Kane: "No thanks..."

Galactus (pointing at Terry): "Not you, fool! Mason!"

Terry: "Me?"

Starburst: "That's right. You are the only one who's worthy to fight me."

Zelfire (angrily): "Are you saying that we're not worthy?"

Starburst: "I'm not saying it, it is a fact."

Galactica: "If you think you can handle our boss, you're way off your league, earthling."

Zelfire: "Hey I have a name, you know. It's Zelfire."

Galactus: "Whatever."

Starburst: "Well, what do you say? What's your answer? Do you accept my challenge, or are you too afraid to fight me?"

Terry: "I don't have a choice, do I?"

Starburst (sarcastically): "Not only you're strong, but you're smart, too."

And thus, Terry accepted Starburst's challenge, a fight to the death. Also, it was decided that Kane and Zelfire will fight Galactus, while Piper will fight Galactica. Lisa gave them good luck and her faith to them and went somewhere else to avoid the dangers.

The battle was about to begin...the warriors took their place on the fields and prepared for the fight of their lives. Terry and Starburst stood in front of each other, face to face. They stared at each other. All they saw in their eyes was the defeat of his opponent. Mason was a bit scared, yet excited that he could fight some one so powerful. He loved challenges, and although this one was a little dangerous, it was still a challenge he couldn't refuse.

Starburst chuckled as he was looking at Mason.

"What's so funny?"

Starburst: "I've never been so happy...you are the one, I can feel it! All my life I've been searching for a worthy opponent. Only a few who fought me made a worthy fight. I'm sure you can make this a worthy fight!"

Terry: "Be careful what you wish for."

Starburst: "You're lucky, you know that? Not many get the honor to fight Starburst, third strongest fighter in the universe!"

Terry: "You're exaggerating."

Starburst: "Oh am I?"

"If you're the third strongest fighter, who's the second and first?"

"You don't have a clue, do you? Of course not, you've been on earth since you were a baby. The only two beings who are stronger than me is my father, and Dark Spectre. Every one knows that!"

Terry: "Dark Spectre? Some one else has mentioned that name before..."

"Of course you've heard of him. Almost every fighter who ever lived knows his name. He is the ruler of the Dark Empire, and the most powerful fighter in the universe."

"He's the most powerful guy in the...universe?"

"Enough of this. It's time to begin!"

"Fine, then. I don't like your stories anyway."

On the other front, Piper and Galactica began to fight. Galactica insulted Piper to piss him off.

"Hmm, I don't know why I'm even wasting my time with an earthling."

Piper: "A waste of time? I'll show you!"

Galactica: "C'mon! Gimme your best shot!"

Piper punched, but he dodged again and again. Left, right, left, right! Piper kept on going to make sure he couldn't fight back. Piper made a punch, but Galactica jumped to the side, and kicked him in the guts, then kicked him again. Piper moaned and groaned from the pain.

Galactica: "Fool! You should work on your defense. Offense alone isn't enough!"

Piper (grunting): "I don't need you to tell me how to fight!"

Galactica: "Fine, then have it your way." He kicked Piper again, then continued with a combo. Kick, kick, kick, punch! Piper was losing badly.

Kane and Zelfire began their assault in the air and attacked together. They were hardly a match for him. Galactus's two arms were like four arms as he fought back with lightning speed. He got in between them, and hit them both away. Then they charged a blast together and fired, then Galactus evaded and the two energies hit each other.

"Ha ha ha ha! You morons. Are you fighting me or each other?"

This insult really angered Zelfire and Kane more than they thought. They continued fighting intensely and won't stop until the end.

Finally, Terry and Starburst began their fight. They charged at each other and hit at the elbow, then at the fists. Starburst fired laser beams from his eyes. He aimed at Terry, but he was too fast to get hit. As they continued, they knocked each other into rocks and into the ground. Every time they hit something, it exploded. Almost everything that touched their energy fields was destroyed. Surely, it was the most dangerous battle the earth had ever seen.

14: A Fight of Pride.

Contents

The heroes continued their fight against Starburst and the Galactic Brothers. They have survived all the dangers so far against Destructo and Nimbus, but can they survive Starburst's challenge?

As Zelfire was catching his breath, he saw Galactica holding Piper by the neck, and decided to go help.

Zelfire: "Let him go!"

Galactica: "Are you talking to me?"

Zelfire: "Yeah, you!"

"Fine." He threw Piper on the ground. Zelfire rushed to help him up while he gasped for air. Galactica saw his brother on the ground and helped him up.

Galactica: "Looks like they roughed you up, bro! You can't even handle them..."

Galactus: "It's not fair. You get the shitty earthling, but my hands are full with the other earthling and Kane."

Galactus: "I think it's time."

Kane: "Time for what?"

Galactica: "Time to show you what we can do together."

The warrior brothers leaped into the air at the same time and stopped at the same point. Their movements were so identical it was as if they were one person.

Galactus: "Experience the power of the Galactic Brothers, the strongest team in the universe!"

Zelfire: "No way!"

A barrier formed around the brothers. Now, the heroes were really scared. The brothers together used the Galactic Blast, and it was so powerful that it knocked them far away! The destruction it had caused was devastating. Almost the whole forest had been destroyed. They were amazed at the brothers' power. They flew into the air and attacked the brothers, but were no match for them as they fought as one.

Kane: "How can this be? When they fight together, they're almost invincible!"

Zelfire: "They are a strong team. They also have an advantage in the air. We need to get them at ground level."

Piper: "That's gonna be hard." The brothers split up and charged at them. The fight continued and heroes were getting tired.

Galactus: "They're wearing out. It's time to finish them off."

Galactica: "We'll finish them off one by one." He looked at Piper. "That earthling on the right seems to be the weakest. He'll be the first one."

Galactus: "Right." The brothers attacked only Piper and ignored Kane and Zelfire.

Piper: "Why are they after only me? Oh I get it, they want to eliminate us one by one!"

Kane: "Guys, when those two are fighting together, they're unstoppable."

Zelfire: "Are you saying we have to separate them?"

Kane: "Exactly."

They tried to separate the brothers, but it was no use.

Terry and Starburst continued firing energy beams at each other and every time they were real close to hitting each other. Terry fired the Ultra Blast and got lucky. Starburst blocked it, but he still suffered the damage. He was frying like an oven!

Starburst: "Why you! I'll make you pay for that!" He blasted a wave of energy that was shaped like a star.

Terry quickly avoided it, but he didn't stop it from hitting the ground, producing a huge kaboom. A bunch of smoke covered the place. When the smoke faded away, there was big star-shaped hole on the ground, burning like a barbeque.

Terry: "W-What did he do?"

Starburst: "They don't call me Starburst for nothing! I just put my symbol on the ground. Isn't it neat?"

Terry: "You almost destroyed an entire forest!"

"I know! What you've seen is just a small sample of what I can do. I have made much bigger stars on other planets...so big that it can be seen from space! I use this to mark my victory. I use this move every time before I win the fight."

"I think you used it too early. You haven't won yet."

"I always win! No one has been able to overcome my challenge. It's only a matter of time for you."

"I'll prove you wrong."

"You can try." He whacked Terry into the hole and they continued fighting in there.

The Galactic Brothers were still beating the heroes. They formed a barrier around them to protect from all attacks. Kane, Piper and Zelfire shot energy beams at them, but it was no use. The brothers remained unharmed. Then the brothers sent a wave of energy at them. Whoosh! They were blown back like paper by a strong wind.

Kane: "There's got to be a way to stop them!"

Suddenly, Zorton dropped in from no where to help them.

Zorton: "We have to fire at them at the same time, this is the only way!"

Galactus: "Where did that red guy come from?"

Galactica: "Who cares? They will all die!"

The four heroes together fired their biggest beams and destroyed the barrier. The beams were too much for the brothers, and they were blown away.

Zelfire: "We did it! We won!"

They might have beaten the Galactic brothers, but the fight between Mason and Starburst continued and it was intensifying every second. Despite Terry's determination and non-giving up attitude, he was losing badly.

Starburst got behind Terry wrapped his neck with his tail. He was losing air and if he doesn't do something quick, he's a goner.

Starburst: "What's the matter? Am I squeezing you too tight?"

Terry (choking): "Arrrk..."

The sayan concentrated his energy into his hands and touched Starburst's tail. It was frying and smoking! He quickly let go and blew his tail as a person would blow his arm if he was burned. Terry seized the chance by breathing a lot of air, then he hit Starburst. Starburst fired a razor disc and as it charged at Terry and slashed his arm. But thanks to his quickness, that could have been his stomach.

Starburst noticed his hand was bleeding and commented, "Awww, I guess you weren't fast enough!"

"Why you..."

They ran into each other. Starburst blurred. Terry was like, "huh?" Starburst appeared behind him, and kicked him in the back Wham! While being catapulted in the air, Starburst hit him some more, giving him a good combo.

Terry was lying on the ground, unable to get up. Starburst had him right where he wanted him. He stepped on his stomach and his arms. Terry screamed in pain.

"AAAAHHHH!"

Starburst: "What's wrong? Did I hurt you too much? Maybe I should be softer on you..."

"Get off me!"

"I will, but by that time, you'll be dead."

"Why you..."

Starburst: "Don't worry; I'll finish you off quickly. You won't feel a thing at all!"

"You're a cold blooded killer! You see fighting as entertainment! You..."

Starburst: "I don't even have blood. But you are right, I enjoy fighting, and killing my opponents. Fighting is kind of entertaining...well, unless if you're losing. Is there anything wrong with that?"

"What's wrong is that you're taking lives away whodidn't want to be taken away."

Starburst: "Think of it as hobby. You have hobbies, don't you Mason?" He stepped on his chest harder.

"AAAAHHHH! You'll...you'll never win!"

Terry was really angry at this point. He charged up energy on his hands, and formed a ball.

Starburst: "What?!" The energy ball pushed Starburst into the air. Terry got back on his feet and fired the Ultra Blast at Starburst. Kaboom! He exploded in the air. In a fit of rage, Terry continued to shoot at the explosion as he screamed like a mad man.

Starburst fell on the ground and this time he was burned worse than ever. A voice cried out from ground level.

"Well done Mason!" Zorton jumped down. "Congratulations."

"Zorton? Thank you."

The fight was finally over. What seemed like half an hour seemed like an eternity for Terry. His shirt was mostly ripped, and he had scratches all over his body. There were holes on his pants. Blood was dripping from his mouth. This was the most intense fight Mason had ever experienced.

Suddenly, Starburst awakened. He was so badly hurt he had to struggle to get up. He flew into the air and screamed, "I'll get you for this Mason! It isn't over yet!"

Terry: "He's just a sore loser."

The others went into the star-shaped hole to join them.

Lisa: "It's over at last! Oh Terry, you look terrible!"

Zelfire: "Did you..."

"Yeah, I won. We won't be seeing Starburst for a while."

Piper: "Hey, did you notice that this place is almost shaped like a-"

"Star? Starburst was responsible for this."

Piper: "There is one thing good about him...he's a good artist." Everybody was laughing and smiling except for Zorton and Kane. Zorton's expression was hidden behind the mask so no one noticed his worried face.

Zelfire: "What's wrong Kane, you don't look so great, is something wrong?"

Kane: "Uh, nothing. Nothing's wrong."

Zelfire: "Are you alright?"

Kane: "I'm fine." Kane left by himself.

"Something's got to be wrong. I've never seen Kane so gloomy like that before..."

Days later, Terry was still injured, with a cast on his left arm, and bandages and wrappings on his legs, head, and body. "Oh, man. I don't know how much longer I can take this. I can't do anything around here."

Zorton: "Don't worry, Mason. Sayans heal faster than normal people do. You'll be back in action in no time."

Mason: "Really? That's great! I can't wait to get rid of these bandages off my body. You know, whenever I get injured and see a doctor, they always get surprised at how fast I heal. I guess took it for granted. I never knew it had to do with what I am."

Zorton: "What you are? You mean, you are a sayan too?"

"Yeah, how did you know?"

"I can tell from the first time I met you. You can easily tell if someone is a sayan."

"Oh really. Cuz I don't know." Terry said, rubbing his head and laughing.

Zorton walked out of the room.

Only Terry and Kane remained.

"So, Terry...have you been thinking about this lately?"

"Think about...you mean that?"

"Yes. I've noticed that you don't admit that you're a sayan to your enemies. Do you still deny that you are a part of that species?"

Terry got all serious. "Honestly, I think sayans have no shame. They are cold-blooded murderers. But I am what I am. I'm Terry Spade. That's all that matters."

Kane: "Oh, I see."

It seemed that Spade has accepted his heritage little by little. But Kane knows there's still a conflict deep within Terry. A really deep, boiling conflict.

Terry, Lisa, Zelfire and Piper were really happy ever since the victory. They seemed like they didn't have a care in the world (or the universe). However, Kane was still unhappy, and they're noticing it more and more.

Piper: "Kane, you've barely said anything in days. What's wrong? You look like Armageddon is coming.

Kane: "Don't say that!"

Piper: "Okay...my bad."

Terry: "Piper is right. You have been acting real strange these few days. If there's anything that's bothering you, you can tell us. You can trust us, as we have trusted you."

Kane: "..."

Zelfire: "Yeah, Kane. We're your friends. You can tell us anything."

Zorton: "I think you should tell them. They have a right to know."

Kane: "Okay, fine. But this is really bad news."

Lisa: "What is it?"

Kane: "A few days ago, Terry has defeated Starburst..."

"Can you tell us what we don't know already?" Lisa said.

"You might think this is a good thing, but it's really not. You guys have angered Starburst, and he won't stop coming after you until you're dead."

Terry: "Don't worry about that. I beat him once. I can do it again."

Zorton: "No, it's not that simple."

Piper: "You know about this too?"

Kane: "You see, Starburst is one of Dark Spectre's main henchmen.

Terry: "That name again...Who is he?"

Kane: "Only the strongest and most supreme being in the universe."

Zelfire: "No way!"

Kane: "I'm afraid we are all doomed. If you anger Starburst, he'll tell this to Dark Spectre, and he'll send his army after you!"

Piper: "B-But...we didn't do anything to Dark Spectre."

Kane: "That's true...but he considers you as a threat, Mason...uhh...sorry, Terry. As the ruler of the universe, he must do what every leader does, which is to maintain power. He mustn't let any fighter become too strong, fearing he might be overthrown. So, he eliminates all threats, and whoever he considers a threat...Trust me. I've seen it before. He has killed numerous warriors, and none were even close to beating him."

"I don't care what he sends against me. I can take his whole army, if they try to kill me."

Kane: "You just don't get it, do you? This is not like any situation like Destructo, or the G-Force, this is the leader of the whole universe we're talking about!"

Piper: "So, in other words, we've become the most wanted criminals in the whole universe?"

Zorton: "The true criminal is Dark Spectre. He has taken so many innocent lives through the war."

Kane: "Mason, I know you're strong, but there's no way you can withstand his entire Dark Empire. Do you realize how many planets he controls, and how many soldiers are on each planet?! Besides, look at yourself. You're in no condition to fight. Even if you can take his army out, there's no way you can take Dark Spectre. When he comes attack us in person, we all are goners!"

Zelfire (in denial): "This is not happening..."

"So, we can't fight them. What do you suggest we do?" Piper asked.

Kane: "There's only one option here, flee to another planet and hide."

Terry: "What? No way! I'm not running away from him. We have to stand up to him."

Zorton: "Listen everybody, Kane is right. We either flee this planet or perish, along with planet earth."

Piper (also in denial): "You're kidding, right? Tell me this is just a joke..."

Kane: "Do I look like I'm joking around?"

Piper: "We have to leave our planet to go somewhere else?"

Kane: "I'm afraid so. Starburst saw all of us, so we all have to leave, especially Terry."

Zelfire: "But this is so sudden. How will we get there? Where are we gonna go?"

Kane: "I know this is a shock to all of you, but we can't deny this. We have to do it, for the safety of us, and this whole planet of people. I'm sorry guys."

Zelfire: "Alright, we'll go."

Kane: "Ok, I'll go arrange everything."

Terry sat down on a chair, wandering into deep thought. He felt helpless that he can't fight, and angry and sad that he has to leave his home...his home for his whole life.

But he's never seen Kane talk like this before. Is this what's been bothering him for the past few days. Fear of the big empire? Is this what made him so gloomy and stressed out?

Lisa: "Guys, I'm coming with you..."

Piper: "W-What did you say?"

Zelfire: "Are you sure about this? You don't have to do this. Starburst doesn't consider you a s a threat. He wants us, not you."

Lisa: "Yeah, but..."

Piper: "Lisa, do you understand the situation? You want to leave your home to come with us? We're going into outer space. Who knows what we'll encounter there?"

Zelfire: "It's too dangerous Lisa. You can't come. We can't let anything happen to you!"

Piper: "Hey Terry, say something!"

Terry was still in deep thought and he couldn't hear a word Piper said.

Lisa: "I know what I'm doing, guys. I can't just leave you guys! We've been friends our whole lives, and we've been through everything together. You guys are my life, don't you get it?"

It was a real emotional moment for everybody.

Lisa: "Starburst saw me as well. Don't worry, I'll be extra careful, and I won't get in your way."

Piper: "Lisa..."

Zelfire was dumbfounded.

"I think we should let her come. It's her choice she wants to come. It's no one else's." Terry said finally.

Piper: "Terry..."

"She's right. We've known each other since we were little. If we left her, she would be very lonely. Friends stick together forever, through thick and through thin."

Lisa: "Thanks."

All four together: "Friends forever!" They put their hands together and formed a unified fist and Kane hesitated and then joined them. Zorton didn't join it.

Later, Zorton was training and Kane was inside the space pod. He was trying to contact the sayan colony on Mascus. He pressed some buttons on the control panel and something popped up on the screen.

Inside the control room of the colony, Jerrell just received Kane's transmission. The picture on the screen was blurry and choppy, but he could see Kane and could hear him slightly.

Kane: "...You've got to help us Jerrell."

Jerrell: "Ok, I understand. I'll send some one right away to pick you and your friends up."

A figure entered the room, walking towards the screen. She kneeled down behind Jerrell. She was outfitted in the same combat suit as the other sayans were.

"Let me go, Jerrell." said Margarita.

Jerrell: "Are you sure about this, Margarita? This is only a rescue mission; I don't need a first class fighter on this. Besides, I thought you were only interested in fighting?"

"I know. I don't need to take this simple mission, but I really want to. I miss Kane a lot. Plus, I heard he met another sayan."

Jerrell: "You are really excited about meeting Mason, aren't you?"

Margarita: "You're right. You know too much about me."

Jerrell (smiling): "Margrit...I've known you my whole life. There isn't one thing that I don't know about you."

Margarita: "Right. So...can I go?"

Jerrell: "Normally, I wouldn't put any fighters like you in unnecessary danger. But since it's you, I'll make an exception."

Margarita: "Thank you Jerrell!"

Jerrell: "Oh, and by the way, Mason is injured, so don't hurt him too much."

"Yes, I understand!" she said, smiling.

As the heroes packed their belongings, preparing for the journey of a lifetime, Terry had something to say.

"Guys, I have something I'd like to say."

"Sure, what is it?" Lisa asked. They noticed how serious he was.

"What happened in the past few months was...nothing less than crazy. I've discovered and learned many things. About the universe. And also about myself." He looked at Kane, who glanced back at him. They were exchanging thoughts. "I've hardly brought up this topic, but you guys know that I'm a sayan. I'm not one of you." Then he pulled up his sleeve. "This birthmark on my arm proves it."

Piper laughed. "Is that all? It's no big deal. You're still our friend. Whether you're a human or a sayan, it doesn't make you any less of a friend. You're just good ol' Terry Spade."

Terry: "You guys remember Renegade and the Destructo gang, don't you?"

Kane: "Ugh, don't even remind me."

"Well, when I was fighting him, he told me a little bit about the Great War. It was a pretty intense fight. I've learned some things about myself." (He's my brother.)

"And as you know, my sayan name is Mason. It was the name I was born with. People have been calling me Mason and Terry, Mason and Terry..."

Zelfire: "Both are the same. You are still you."

"I also learned that I can't deny the past, or my heritage. I am what I am. So, in the future, to avoid confusion, please call me Mason."

Piper: "Is that what you really want?"

Mason: "Yes. I just want to be called by my real name. It isn't too much to ask, is it?"

Lisa: "Not at all! Whether you're Terry or Mason, you're still you."

Zelfire: "Sure, there's no problem, Terr-uh, I mean Mason."

Piper: "Mason...that just doesn't sound right."

Zorton: "You'll get used to it."

Kane: "Oh by the way, people, I've already contacted Mascus. The pilots will be coming to pick us up shortly."

Lisa: "What kind of place is Mascus?"

Kane: "It's a great place to be. Mascus is a planet located in the S-Sector. We have a sayan colony, founded by our leader, Jerrell. It's one of the best places to be if you're a rebel fighting against the Dark Empire. You can say they are sayan-kind's last hope. Not all sayans are bad, you see. I am one of them too."

Meanwhile, Starburst was in the Battalion, inside the healing chamber. He contacted a certain some one from a distant planet called Murai. A dark figure appeared on the screen.

"So, you've been defeated by a fighter superior to you. Hmm, I never thought I'd see this day come."

Starburst: "He is not stronger than me. I just let my guard down."

"Don't take it so hard. I've heard rumors that he killed several top class fighters, now I think those rumors are true. I don't care how strong he is, anyone who opposes me will die."

The heroes were preparing to leave earth, per Kane's recommendation. They packed all their things and valuables. Kane felt excited and nostalgic since he hasn't been in the colony for a while, but the others were scared and worried that this might be their last journey.

"When will they arrive?" Lisa asked.

"They'll be here soon. Just be patient." Kane said.

"So, I guess this is it...our last day on earth..."

"Oh, don't feel so sad. When things calm down we'll come right back here. I promise. Besides, our leader is very nice, and the colony is just as good as your homes, maybe even better."

"I can't believe I'm really doing this."

"Everyone, just relax. We are going to be perfectly safe once we get to the Mascus Colony. The leader, Jerrell, and I are good friends. He will take care of you. You will be living comfortably."

Piper: "That's not the main issue. We've never left the country, let alone our planet."

"There's a first time for everything." Kane replied.

Finally, the spaceship from the colony arrived. The ship stabilized, and the door opened. Margarita and Kyle walked out.

"Kane!" she yelled.

"Margarita? It's you! I didn't expect you to come all the way here to pick us up!"

"Well, I couldn't wait to see you and meet your friends."

"Hey Kyle, you're here too!"

"I'm just helping out."

Kane: "Oh yeah, these are my friends...this is Piper...Zelfire...Lisa..."

Margarita shook their hands as Kane introduced them.

"And this is Zorton..."

She shook his hand. "Pleased to meet you. What's with the mask? Are you people shy or something?"

"Umm..."

"Okay, I won't force you. If you want to hide yourself, that's none of my business."

Then she looked at Mason. "Let me guess, this is the great Mason that you've been talking about."

"Yeah, that's me."

"It's an honor to meet you." She offered her hand, and he shook it with his good hand. Then she squeezed it really tight, and Mason not knowing why she was doing this, struggled to get free. She finally let go. "C'mon, we have no time to waste. Let's go."

When nobody was looking, Mason looked at his crushed hand and shrieked. "Youch that hurts!" Damn, he thought, is every girl from that colony so aggressive?

Without wasting time, everyone got into the ship. Margarita and Kyle went to the pilot's cockpit, and the rest went into the passenger room. The inside was much like an airplane, only more compact.

Starburst was still in his healing chamber, and his ship, the Battalion, detected Margarita's ship leaving the earth.

"What, they're escaping?! They won't get away that easily. Computer, go after them and destroy them!"

"Affirmative sir! ... Changing into attack mode...ready..." the computer voice announced.

As Margarita's ship left the atmosphere, the Battalion fired.

Luckily for them, Margarita was not only a fighter, but a skilled pilot as well. She managed to avoid all the missiles, but Starburst won't give up that easily. The Battalion chased after them, but it ran out of fuel.

"Blast it! You got away this time, but its not over yet Mason! We will meet again..."

"Phew, that a close one." Lisa said.

"Yeah, I thought we were goners!" Zelfire said.

Kane: "Don't sweat it, everybody. Margrit and Kyle are the best pilots we have. We'll be ok. Just relax."

They might have escaped the Battalion, but luck won't help them this time.

Margarita checked the scanner. "Oh no! More fighter ships straight ahead!"

"What's the matter, are you scared?" Kyle asked.

"Scared? Of who? Let's blow them up!"

"That's the spirit."

Flying in their direction were three Star Fighters, one of the deadliest of all war ships.

Lisa looked out the window and spotted the attackers. "Look guys, there!"

"We're under attack!"

"They're heading straight for us!" Terry yelled.

"We're doomed." Zell said.

Margarita's voice rang in from the speaker. "Hang on everybody, this is going to be one bumpy ride, so put on your seatbelts!"

"I hope they're as good as you say they are, Kane." Piper said.

"I know they're the best we've got."

It was an explosive battle in space. The attackers were chasing right after them and shooting them. Their ship was hit a few times but not seriously damaged.

Pilot#1: "We've damaged their lasers, they can't attack us!"

Commander: "Good. Destroy them at all costs!"

Pilot#2: "Yes sir!"

Pilot#1: "Yes sir!"

The chase continued, until they entered an asteroid field.

"There's an asteroid field ahead!" Kyle exclaimed.

"I know." Margarita said.

"You're not...you're not gonna..."

"This is the only way we can lose them."

"Are you completely out of your mind?! We'll crash! It's dangerous!"

"Hey, it's not impossible to go through that alive, right?"

"Yeah, but..." Kyle said.

"I know our chances are low, but it's either that or they blow us up to pieces! Let's go for it."

"God help me!"

Pilot#1: "Those fools! They're heading into the field!"

Commander: "Go after them! Don't stop!"

Pilot#1: "But..."

Commander: "This is an order! We'll make sure they don't survive, even if we have to die too!"

So the four ships entered the asteroid field. There's a rock in the way on every turn. If they make one wrong move, it could be their last. Mason and the others prayed that they come out of there in one piece. Luckily for them, Margarita was able to fly out of there without a scratch, but for the enemy, they weren't so lucky. All of them crashed into a rock and died.

Hours later, everybody was asleep, except for Mason and Margarita. They were in the conference room, sitting across each other from a round table. Mason told his heroic stories of how he beat his enemies, especially the one involving Starburst. Margarita was all ears. She listened to his story with great interest and admiration.

Mason finished his story, "...And then I got really angry, I just couldn't take it anymore! I made one final move and bam! It hit him right in the guts, and that's when I knew I had won."

Margarita: "Wow, that was the most exciting story I've ever heard."

"Oh, well, gee, thanks."

"So, your injuries..."

"This? They're the result of the fight with Starburst."

"It must be a bummer for you, huh?"

"Yeah, I can't do anything anymore."

"Well, don't sweat it. You'll be healed faster than you think, as all sayans do."

"I know. Zorton told me."

Margarita: "Speaking of which, I've been wondering about Zorton. Why does he hide his face all the time?"

Mason: "I don't know...I've never seen his face before. None of us has, but I think he has his reasons to hide his face. Ummm, about today, earlier...you..."

Margarita: "What?"

"Never mind." He really wanted to ask her about the devastating hand shake, but he backed out.

That turned out to be a useful conversation. These two sayans found out much about each other after talking only for a few hours.

Two weeks later, at a certain time, everybody was in bed except for the pilot. Mason was mostly healed and ready for action. Zelfire tossed and turned in bed, not able to sleep. He had too much worry in his mind. What is going to happen to them? What kind of people are they going to meet? One thing is for sure...this is going to be the journey of a life time.

A large reddish-green planet appeared in the view.

Margarita: "Look, we're here!"

Kyle: "Finally. I was getting tired of sleeping on this ship."

Margarita announced the good news to them. They were woken up by her voice. "Hey rise and shine everybody! We are now at the Mascus Colony."

Mason (yawning): "We made it!"

Lisa: "We're finally here!"

Kane: "Yes, I'm back home!"

The ship landed right in front of the colony buildings. When they got out of the ship, they were mesmerized by it. The colony was huge, and all the buildings were connected to another by a bridge. They saw it as Kane's home, as well as Margarita's and Kyle's. But what they didn't see is that this colony is the last hope for the rebels. It's the only thing standing between the Empire and total domination of the universe.
